Re-opened Council rescinds Glover closing

At their April 8 meeting, the Romulus City Council directed that there be a temporary closing of Grover Street at Haskell. This came after arguments for the move were heard from residents of the area.

Now, however, the council has been advised by the city attorney that such a move was in violation of the city charter and was rescinded at its last meeting. Residents were to be notified by mail of the change and of a May 27 public hearing to hear objections on the matter.

In a letter to Mayor Beverly McAnally and the city council, attorneys Ronald Mack and Barry Seifman stated that "although the charter grants the city council full authority over city streets and alleys, Section 14.2 of Article 14 of the city charter restricts council's authority to close and/or vacate the same."

The city charter states that "When the council shall deem it advisable to vacate any street or part thereof, it shall, by resolution, so declare and in the same resolution shall appoint a time, when it shall meet and hear objections thereto."

Since no hearing had been scheduled and charter does not allow for "temporary" vacating, the city attorney's office has suggested that if council so wishes, corrective action may be taken. This was set into action at last week's meeting when the hearing date was set.

According to the letter, "Members of this office have visited the location and have found that Grover Street is one of only two means of access to a large apartment complex. Access off Wayne Road in any event is, as a practical matter, non-existent for those living in the apartments near the intersection of Grover and Haskell because of all the continuous turns from Wayne Road.

"Although (we are not) street safety engineers, I can readily see legal problems facing the city by closing off Grover Street access to the apartments. Police, fire and rescue runs would all be prolonged by closing Grover Street at Haskell. It is suggested before any further action is taken on the petition to close, that your police, fire and street safety engineers inspect and study the location and report their findings back to council."

Cleaning up

The Romulus Beautification Committee had lots of help last week during Romulus Cleanup Day. Kids of all ages dug in to help make Romulus a better-looking place to live and be proud of. Among those helping out were William Morris, 10, Melanie Sundquist, 12, Eben Smith, 12, and Corrie Filbert, 14.

Arrest made in shooting

Romulus police have arrested a man in the May 8 shooting on Pan Am Street that left Ray Greenawalt, 37, of Romulus in critical condition at an area hospital.

Arriving on the scene, police arrested Thomas Lee Stouse after Greenawalt allegedly said "he shot me, he did it," according to police. The shooting allegedly took place in a mobile home belonging to Stouse. "The victim was visiting," said Romulus Det. Lt. Ken Kraus. "So far, we haven't come up with a motive."

Stouse has been arraigned in 34th District Court in Romulus on counts of felonious assault and felony firearm. Preliminary examination is scheduled for May 22.

Greenawalt was shot once in the abdomen and is still hospitalized, although he is scheduled to come out of intensive care at any time.

A 'Sharp' wit Grand marshal talks about life, Romulus

By STEVE O'LEARY
ANP Staff Writer

"Most cities give you the key to their city. For being Grand Marshal in Romulus' Sesquicentennial Parade, they're giving me the key to city hall which is great, because that means I can go in there next day and pick up a few typewriters, a good supply of Scotch tape and a Xerox machine...I've always wanted a Xerox." So says nationally known comedian Thom Sharp, a former account executive from Dearborn now seen in commercials, television shows and movies.

Sharp was asked to be the Grand Marshal in this special parade by Mayor Beverly McAnally, after an article was printed in Monthly Detroit magazine where, after being asked to come up with a better slogan than "Do it in Detroit," Sharp offered "Say yes to Romulus."

"The mayor seemed to have a good sense of humor about the thing," says Sharp, "and sent me a very nice letter asking me to be in the Sesquicentennial Parade, which I thought was great, since I've never been a Grand Marshal before."

In his standup comedy routine, which played last week to all soldout houses at Mark Ridley's Comedy Castle, Sharp included references to Romulus ("C'mon, all you suffers from Romulus!" during his song "Surfing for Peace") and also mentioning his being the "Grand Marshal for the city's 150th anniversary."

"I can see it now," Sharp said, "I'll be riding on the back of a convertible, waving to everyone, and they'll have absolutely no idea who I am. 'Honey, who's that? Isn't that our neighbor from down the street? Is that Mr. Boysnick? Oh well, I guess they couldn't get a real person for the parade this year.'"

Sharp is honestly happy to have been asked to come to Romulus, even though it means another case of jet lag. "I wish I could just stay here but I can't," he says. Sharp and his wife, Judy, who grew up in Garden City ("the gateway to Westland") now make their home in California, but he makes many trips a year to visit with his parents, who still reside in Dearborn.

In a post-show interview, Sharp was quick to show his familiarity with the Romulus area: "Of course, I've used the airport there in Romulus many times, I've bought magazines and snacks there, and, as a matter of fact, every time I land at Metropolitan Airport I think 'hey, I'm in Romulus'. I also drop people off and pick them up at the airport, so I guess it's fair to say it's like a second home to me."

Whenever Sharp is in town, he frequently drops in on his friend, Dick Purtan, as he did this latest trip. "On Purtan and on another interview on Kelly &

"...I guess it's fair to say it's like a second home to me."

—Thom Sharp

Co. we talked about the founding of Romulus. It goes like this:

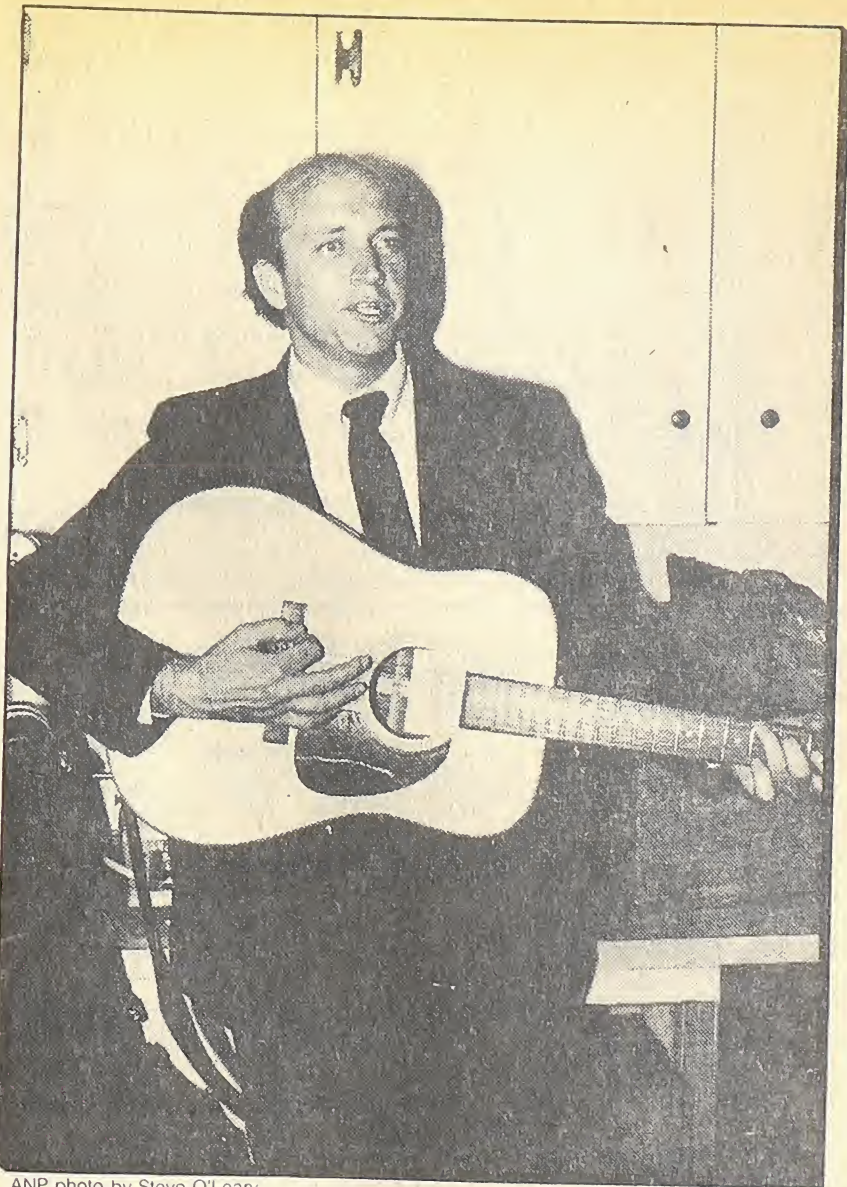

"The explorer Estabon Middlebelt founded Romulus, he bought it from the Romulus Indians for $150. The Taylor Indians said no, we're not selling, the Dearborn Heights Indians said no, we're not selling, but the Romulus Indians said yeah, we'll sell, because there's a toxic waste dump here and we're going to move on."

"So, Estabon founded Romulus, and he's also the one that came up with the idea of wearing your belt around the middle of your body. Up until then they wore them around their ankles. Maybe not funny, but true."

Sharp has, in addition to doing numerous commercials and being a regular on Dick Clark's "Bloopers and Practical Jokes," appeared in three films. He had a small part in the steamy "Body Heat," "Protocol" with Goldie Hawn, and will soon be opening in "Stoogemania."

"Stoogemania" is about a hospital where people are taken when they become too addicted to the Three Stooges, and looks to be lots of fun. It will also be Sharp's longest appearance on the silver screen yet. "I wouldn't exactly say this has been a movie career," Sharp said, "more of a movie 'ca'. I play the head of the hospital where the people come to be de-stoogified."

In a special message to Romulus citizens, Sharp wanted to relay the following: "I'm really looking forward to coming to Romulus, and I'm also looking forward to being asked back for the 300th year parade."

And when you see him in the parade, be aware that he's not your neighbor down the street, but rather, that guy on the convertible is "Mr. Hollywood."

The parade is scheduled to start at 6 p.m. May 17 at city hall, located at Wayne and Goddard, and will wind through the downtown area.

In search of . . . Stray sheepdog sought in attack

By SUE McDONALD
ANP News Editor

Deborah Selders is hoping someone living in the City of Romulus can help her and her 11-year-old son.

That someone is the person who may have found a 125-pound gray and white Old English sheepdog near Detroit Metropolitan Airport. Selders is interested in finding the animal, not because he is a missing family pet, but rather to spare her son from going through a series of painful rabies shots.

Her son was playing with a group of youngsters in the neighbor's yard last Wednesday evening in Lincoln Park, when the family pet attacked the youngster, severely biting him on the chest. The youngster managed to escape from the dog by scrambling over the fence, but not before the dog badly bruised him while trying to drag him back into the yard.

Selders didn't report the incident to the Lincoln Park police until the next morning when the bite had become inflamed and infected. It was then that she learned that the neighbor's boyfriend had taken the dog, which answers to the name Shelby, from the home some time after the attack and dropped it off near the airport.

The neighbor had reassured Selders that the dog had had its rabies vaccination, but when asked to produce the papers by the police, she admitted that the animal had not received the shots.

Selders said the dog had until the attack been a friendly animal, and his sudden mood change has her concerned that if taken in by a family it might again turn vicious.

"I'm afraid he'll turn on someone else," she said. "And I just can't believe that they would just dump the dog off some place."

Persons who see the dog, or may have taken it in, are asked to contact the local authorities so that the animal can be impounded and checked for possible rabies. The dog stands about 2 1/2 to 3 feet tall and has a short coat as a result of having had its fur trimmed.

If the dog cannot be found before Saturday, Selders' son will have to begin the series of shots.

Persons with information can also contact Selders at 382-4216.

roamin' romulus

Kris DeTroyer

THERE'S SO MUCH TO TELL YOU . . . while I was gone, Founder's Day went off with a bang!, the science fair came and went, there was the threat of a possible toxic waste hazard, one of Romulus's finest passed away, the Charley Lau Dedication pushed the clouds out of the way, Dawn got two new teeth, David removed his training wheels and Brandon Allen Compton drew his first breath. Please help me get back in the swing of things . . . tell me what else is goin' on. 942-0919 - Kristine.

WORKING TOGETHER . . . joint efforts on the part of our city, our schools and the Romulus Parents Area Council made way for the success of the Romulus Community Science Fair which was held at City Hall April 22-26. Romulus High Assistant Principal, Tom Baldwin, and Kathy Dick of St. Aloysius School dedicated many hours of research and planning along with other members of RPAC to pull off this educational event. Our city and school administrators put the use of their facilities at our disposal.

Many classrooms took advantage of the busses supplied by our school transportation department and took field trips to City Hall to view the display of projects which covered everything from a kindergarten student's analysis of absorbency, to a high school student's conclusion concerning acid rain. It was a very interesting collection of the scientific interests of our youth.

Awards will be presented to winning entrants at 1 p.m. on Youth Day, (Saturday, May 18) in the grandstand area of the festival grounds (in the block of Olive and Bibbins). Come see the Thomas Edisons of tomorrow receive their awards of today.

CLEANUP DAY . . . nearly 80 students were out there cleaning up our streets last Wednesday morning. When they were done, the Romulus McDonalds rewarded them with a burger, fries and orange drink. You can reward them, too. Use waste containers. See someone littering? Take their license number and call the police. If you see litter, pick it up.

All elementary students have received a pledge card on which the slogan is "Pick up litter every day, so that it won't fly away." Cards are redeemable for a free soft drink at the festival on May 18, where the Beautification Committee will be selling trash bags and plants. Thanks to all who help keep our city clean.

ART IS A PART . . . of the festival this year. The Romulus Arts Council is seeking out residents with artistic abilities to display their works in the First Annual Young Artists Exhibit on Saturday and Sunday, May 18 and 19, at the Sesquicentennial Michigan Week Festival.

If you have a work of art you would like to show, phone Gloria at 941-2678.

THE WORLD'S FAIR . . . was the theme of Cory School Fair this year. The Cory PTO sponsored event was held May 11, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m., and featured cake walks, carnival games, a moon walk, a kiddie ride, exhibits from around the world and the very special feature of Mary's Home Cookin'. As always, a good time was enjoyed by all.

SOUVENIERS OF . . . the sesquicentennial are now available. Buttons are $1, coffee mugs for $2, license plates for $2, painters caps $3, T-shirts for $7 and jerseys for $8. These items will be on sale at the sesquicentennial Michigan Week Festival.

A very special item is a limited edition of a porcelain collector's plate. These plates are edged in gold with a fine edition of five points in the old days painted on front. The back is numbered and bears an explanation of the front. The plates will sell for $15 and will not be available until at least May 15. Proceeds will fund sesquicentennial events throughout 1985.

Some items are currently available at Bilmars Supermarket. The Sesquicentennial Committee is also offering a Charley Lau Sesquicentennial Coin to anyone who would like to donate $5 or more to the Charley Lau Memorial Fund.

Michigan Week is here

There's plenty to do from now until Sunday in the City of Romulus as residents young and old, city officials and visitors take advantage of fun-packed Michigan week events.

There will be entertainment every night, horseshoe pitching tournament and a 10K run are a few of the athletic events that are planned throughout the festival, not to mention Youth Day on Saturday, May 18, with a host of games planned for the younger set, beginning at 11 a.m.

To tantalize the taste buds is the Rotary Club Chicken Barbeque on Saturday and the Kiwanis pancake breakfast on Sunday, May 19, plus a variety of foods and beverages at the refreshment tents during the festival.

The following is a schedule of activities planned throughout the annual five-day event.

Budding scientists

Romulus City Hall was recently the site of flying airplanes, surging volcanos and other similar activities not typical of everyday life at the city administrative offices. OK, so they weren't real planes, and maybe the volcano wasn't really a natural disaster (paper mache lava...). What it was of course, was this year's Romulus Community Schools Science Fair. "It was wonderful," said a delighted Mayor Beverly McAnally as class after class trooped through the building to admire their classmates work. Pictured are some of the hard-working young Romulus students who helped out (front row, from left) Jeremiah Pillow, Brian Meade, Keith Rogers, Larry Cochran, Aaron Wilhide, Jennifer Hornfeld, (2nd row from left) Jennifer Noland, Ayrsha Carr, Hope De Bord, Mickey Summer, Melissa Lawson, Tommy Malkowski, David Metcalf, Sheila Huff (3rd row, from left) Casey Tasky, Christopher Drouillard, Danny Marr, Janelle Holtz, Jessica Thomas, Lyle Canfield, Pamela Le Croix, Matthew Du Fore, Dennis Ulrich, and Amber Alexander.

Study Club wins honors

Nine members of the GFWC Belleville Area Intermediate Study Club recently participated in the 90th Annual Convention of the Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs, held April 26-28 in Plymouth.

Attending from the local area club were Cathy Horste, GFWC-Michigan public affairs chairman, Nancy Sawyer, GFWC-Michigan public relations chairman, Maxine Lane, GFWC-Michigan treasurer and convention chairman, Connie Etter, GFWC-Michigan beautification chairman, Gloria Gardner, local club president, Kitty Miller, District International affairs chairman, and members Kitty Miller and Vickie Leischner.

Horste presented a public affairs workshop to the approximately 200 members in attendance at the convention, and Gardner made a presentation on the performing arts department programs and projects.

Several club projects were given award recognition during the convention. Honorable mention was given for the club's efforts in Legislation, and first place statewide award was given in the fields of crime reduction, resource management, environmental action and service to Girlstown. Club members were also awarded first place for their work in the MSFWC President's Special Project--Prevention of Sexual Abuse of Children--and second place in the GFWC President's Special Project--Prevention of Child Abuse.

In the Arts and Craft Division, Horste received first place awards for corn husk dolls, and Nancy Sawyer won first place in several sewing divisions.

Kitty Davies placed second in state-wide competition with a crocheted angel and a crocheted shawl.

The next meeting of the GFWC Belleville Area Study Club will be tonight (May 15), and will be the traditional Ladies Night Out. This will be the final club meeting until the fall re-opening. The winner of the Genieve Clark Scholarship will be the guest of honor.

Any person wishing to attend the final meeting, or learn more about the GFWC/MSFWC should contact club president Gloria Gardner at 697-9209.

Bowers receives scholarship

The GFWC Belleville Area Intermediate Study Club has awarded the Genevieve Clark Scholarship in the amount of $250 to Athella-Ann Bowers of Belleville.

The Genevieve Clark Scholarship is awarded each year to a single woman with dependents, who wishes to update or train for a specific career. The intent of the scholarship is to aid a woman (divorced, separated or widowed), who is raising her children alone and who is simultaneously attempting to further her education by pursuing a specific career.

Bowers, the mother of one child, was enrolled at Washtenaw Community College where she obtained an associate's degree with high honors. In September, she will continue her studies in psychology at Eastern Michigan University. In addition to being an honor student, Bowers has been active in community work and organizations.

Bowers was the guest of honor at a dinner held May 15.

Republic Airlines expansion means more job for area

Republic Airlines' selection of Wayne County as the site for a major regional operations and reservations center will open up close to 1,000 new jobs in the county, according to State Representative William R. Keith (D-Inkster).

A massive economic development effort has been started to coordinate the recruitment and training of workers needed for Republic's expanded operations, Keith reported.

The program is under the direction of the Wayne County Private Industry Corporation (PIC), a job training and placement group headed by leaders of business, labor, education and public and private agencies. PIC already is processing some 100 applicants a day at a specially opened center at the old Eloise complex in Westland.

Dislocated workers and economically disadvantaged persons will be given first chance at jobs.

Unemployed persons can apply directly to information and referral centers located at the Wayne County Cooperative Extension Service, 5454 Venoy Road, Wayne; Schoolcraft College, 18600 Haggerty Road, Livonia; and the Federal Grants Office, 13615 Michigan Avenue, Dearborn.

In addition, unemployed and dislocated workers can send resumes to the Wayne County Private Industry Corporation, P.O. Box 51085, Livonia, Michigan 48151.

According to Keith, the quality of the job training and placement services that were able to be put together for Republic was a major factor in its decision to expand in Wayne County.

The new positions will include flight attendant, passenger service agent, reservations agent, station agent, communications agent, clerical, mechanic and fleet servicer among others.

"This cooperative training and placement program is an outstanding example of how business and government can create a partnership for the common good," Keith said.

GM gets defense contract

Defense contracts are contributing to the economy of Romulus. The General Motors Corp. at 36501 Van Born Road, has received a contract to provide $443,348 worth of cylinder sleeves for the U. S. military services.

The large firm was awarded the contract by the Defense Construction Supply Center (DCSC) of Columbus, Ohio.

New Japanese 'Super Pill' Insures Rapid Weight-Loss

No Dieting — Eat All You Want,
Pill Does All The Work

BEVERLY HILLS, CA — An exciting new "all natural" weight-loss "Super" Pill developed by the JMA (Japanese Medical Association) has just been approved for distribution in the United States. Reportedly, it can guarantee that you will lose more than a pound a day without dieting, from the very first day until you reach your ideal weight and figure. News of this "Super Pill" is literally sweeping the country. It's called Amitol and there has never been anything quite like it before.

"Flushes Calories Right Out Of Your Body"

What makes Amitol so thrilling and unique is its reported ability to flush calories right out of your body. Amitol is completely safe, it contains no drugs whatsoever. Its ingredients are derived solely from the Konjac root which grows primarily in Northern Japan.

Why the Konjac root? It has been used in Japan for over 1600 years to produce rapid and natural weight-loss!

Japanese studies verify that Konjac root actually prevents fat producing calories from being absorbed into your system. They say it does this by surrounding much of the fats, proteins and carbohydrates you have eaten with a protective viscous coating which is then gently flushed out of your system. And according to Japanese research this produces absolutely amazing results.

And who can disagree! Amitol (although brand new to this country) is already being called by many people, "the most exciting weight-loss breakthrough of the century." In fact, everywhere there are reports of easy and fast weight-loss from formerly overweight people (in all walks of life) who are now slim, trim, and attractive again.

Company Offers Extraordinary Guarantee

You now can purchase Amitol direct from the North American distributor, and it comes with an extraordinary guarantee.

If you place your order now and then follow the simple instructions for a period of 30 days, you must be completely satisfied with the dramatic visible results or just return the empty container and Dyna Labs will immediately send back your entire purchase price. This guarantee applies regardless of your age or current weight level. What could be better than that! It's just that simple. If you've tried to lose weight before and failed you no longer have an excuse. Amitol is available, it's easy and it works without dieting!

$19.95—30 day supply, or $35.95—60 day supply. Order immediately by sending a check or money order to DYNALABS, 270 No. Canon Dr., Ste. 1255 (Dept. U-21) Beverly Hills, CA, 90210. (Enclose your return address). Credit card holders can order by simply dialing toll free: (1-800-367-2400) 24 hrs a day, 7 days a week. Either way your order will be promptly sent. Please don't wait. Blowin' in the wind . . . Neighbors respond to landfill

By ROSE MARY REIZ
ANP Staff Writer

Westerly winds may be sparing Canton residents from problems their Wayne neighbors insist are caused by landfill operations.

Eight Wayne homeowners

"There's a distinct odor, especially when the landfill people work in the corner near the house. When it rains or gets too hot, it can be bad, too."

—Jeff Kimble

recently filed a $682,000 lawsuit in Wayne County Circuit Court against the operators of the 105-acre Woodland Meadows landfill, located on the northwest corner of Van Born and Hannan Roads in Canton.

The suit alleges that the site has been used for hazardous waste dumpings, and that property values have dropped as the result of landfill activity.

Despite its Canton location, complaints of excessive noise, litter and foul odors have come almost solely from Wayne residents located east of the site.

"I don't have much trouble with the landfill because the wind usually blows from the other direction," explains Canton resident Jeff Kimble, whose family rents a home which backs up to Woodland Meadows property.

Admitting that a landfill landscape is not the most aesthetic of back door views, Kimble also says "it may be part of the reason I got a good price on renting here."

"There's a distinct odor," he admits, "especially when the landfill people work in the corner near the house. When it rains or gets hot out, it can be bad, too."

During storms trees occasionally fill up with debris, Kimble says, and with thousands of blackbirds which sometimes force the homeowner to park his cars elsewhere.

"Another thing is there's something black in the drinking water," Kimble adds. "It looks like maybe soot. . . I don't know if it's because of the landfill or what. We don't drink it, anyway."

Following a 1984 agreement with Canton Township, Woodland Meadows has accepted no hazardous waste, district manager Ray Kellas explains. Non-hazardous waste is deposited only in clay areas 25 feet below ground level, and water is monitored regularly for contaminants, he adds.

"I'm sure anything found in residents' drinking water is coming from their own well, old sisterns or even their roofs."

—Ray Kellas

residents' drinking water is coming from their own well, old sisterns or even their roofs," Kellas explains.

"We've answered the Wayne residents' complaints with legal briefs," Kellas adds, "and we expect the matter to be before a judge soon."

"We've tried to do our best," the manager stresses. "We get sewage sludge from the Detroit Wastewater Treatment Plant, and when the trucks dump loads, you do get some odors. When you dump trash, there are odors from that as well. But we try to cover everything as soon as possible. We're trying to keep problems at a bare minimum."

Canton residents and life-long farmers Freeman and Helen Hasselbach agree that landfill owners have acted responsibly, but the couple occasionally laments "the way things keep changing. . . it makes you wonder where it will all end."

Freeman Hasselbach, who was born 79 years ago on an 80-acre Van Born site designated a Michigan Centennial Farm in 1954, said that $12,000 per year taxes forced him to sell the farm to Woodland Meadows in the late 1970's.

"We were kind of forced into selling and couldn't really do anything else if we wanted to retire," Helen Hasselbach explains. "This was the only chance we had."

Freeman and Helen Hasselbach: high taxes and declining farming conditions forced them to sell acreage to landfill owners.

clining farming conditions.

"The man who had earlier purchased part of our property -- 40 acres across the railroad tracks-- had already sold that portion of land to the landfill, and there was already a landfill there when we sold the rest," Hasselbach explains.

"I've heard about the problems the people in Wayne have had," she adds, "but the landfill people have been good to us."

As provided for in the purchase agreement between Woodland Meadows and the Hasselbachs, the couple holds a life lease on their present home and three acres of land.

"The landfill people have been real good about keeping up with the maintenance around here," Hasselbach says. "They're clean about their operations. Every day they walk the beat and pick up trash."

"Our only real problem is the birds the landfill attracts," she adds. "There's millions of them and they can just about drive you crazy with the noise they make, but nobody can do nothin' about them, I don't suppose."

The birds, the couple agrees, may be constant companions until landfill use on the acreage expires in another eight years. Although Waste Management and Canton Township have yet to finalize future plans for the land, the Hasselbach homestead will be preserved as a future historical site.

Display charts parks' 'natural history'

Two exhibits, tracing the history of the development of the nature interpretive program at Lower Huron Metropark and Oakwoods Metroparks covering 25 years, are now on display at the Nature Center of Oakwoods Metropark near Flat Rock.

A collection of photographs covering Lower Huron Metropark from 1961 to 1985 and Oakwoods Metropark from 1975 to 1985, illustrates changes in these programs over the years, according to Robert Wittersheim, supervising naturalist.

Other members of the staff include Glenn Dent, Mitch Magdich, Gerald P. Wykes and Ron C. Wiley. The entire program is directed by Thomas H. Smith, chief, interpretive services for the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, which has nature trails at most of its Metroparks and three other Nature Centers: Kensington, Stony Creek and Indian Springs Metroparks.

The initial naturalist program developed by HCMA in Wayne County began in 1961 with a few labelled trails for self-guided hikes and a seasonal naturalist at Lower Huron Metropark near Belleville. A summer naturalist, with a "portable nature center" consisting of a trailer with exhibits, such as stuffed birds or animals, animal tracks in plaster or others, visited the picnic areas and helped visitors learn more about nature.

Two years later, a small geodesic dome building was erected and was the nature center for 11 years. Hundreds of school, youth and community groups, as well as families, walked along the Paw Paw or Bob White trails. This program was so popular that a major nature interpretive area was developed at nearby Oakwoods in the mid-1970s.

Oakwoods Metropark, a 1,793-acre site along the Huron River between New Boston and Flat Rock, opened for public use in 1975.

A 350-acre nature sanctuary and large $240,277 Nature Center building, with adjoining trails, staff of naturalists, exhibits and a program of special events for the public, was officially dedicated on May 8, 1975. Schools often visit during morning hours for lectures or field trips.

The Nature Center, overlooking the Huron River and nearby marshes, has live animal displays, local natural history exhibits, lecture and classroom areas. Over the years the staff developed unique and innovative programs -- such as special sessions for Junior Naturalists, bird counts, winter adventures, guest lectures and demonstrations such as "rock polishing," various workshops and Voyageur canoe tours.

This month marks the 10th anniversary of the opening of that Nature Center. Hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekends and 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. during the week, with mornings reserved for school groups during the school year.

Talent search set

Young men and women between the ages of 13 to 23 who are interested in modeling, dance, retailing or marketing are invited to try out for the Fairlane Town Center Fashion Panel. Fairlane is conducting a model search in the Detroit metropolitan area to select the 1985 Fairlane Town Center Fashion Panel.

Members of the Fairlane Fashion Panel will be given the opportunity to learn about fashion, modeling, marketing, and retailing. Panel members will serve a one year term from June 1985 to May 1986.

Young people between the ages of 13 and 23 should submit the following information: Name, address, phone, age, birthdate, a non-refundable $5 entry fee, a recent photo and the completed statement "I want to be a member of the Fairlane Town Center Fashion Panel because . . ."

in 50 words or less to the Fairlane Town Center, Management Office, Marketing Office, Dearborn, Michigan 48126. Deadline for entries is May 17.

Semi-finalists will be notified by phone or mail and will participate in preliminary interviews beginning May 28. Fifty finalists will be chosen to compete on June 1 in the South Grand Court of the center.

Crime not tolerated

Residents of the city of Inkster received some very encouraging news recently regarding the effectiveness of the anti-crime efforts in their community. Crime statistics from the first quarter of the year reveal a 17 percent decline in criminal activity compared to 1984.

Breaking and enterings are down 24 percent. Reported robberies, including those involving handguns or knives, have decreased by 40 percent. Nearly every area of criminal activity, in fact, has dropped or levelled off in terms of the number of incidents recorded by the police department.

These statistics confirm our belief that progress is being made in the fight against crime in Inkster. We base our feelings not solely on the merits of a three-month study but rather on the variables which produced the statistics.

We detect a new attitude of crime prevention that permeates the community; a spirit of cooperation and awareness that includes the police department personnel, the homeowners and citizens willing to get involved in securing a safer standard of living. We see viable neighborhood watch programs in action, a tele-serve concept that helps to maximize police patrols and an aggressive police force that has successfully conducted raids on centers of criminal activity.

For years the Inkster community has suffered with the reputation of being a haven for criminals. If Detroit was saddled with the stigma of "crime capital" then Inkster was one of the suburban "crime centers." Slowly that image seems to be changing.

As City Manager Gregory Knowles recently noted, "there are signs we are making an impact, a dent, and the police force is making a difference. If Detroit is down four percent and we're down 17 percent, we're doing something right."

Yes, Inkster residents are doing something right. Cognizant of the crime problem in their city, citizens are banding together to assist the police without resorting to lawless vigilanteism. Hopefully they will not rest on their laurels, based on a favorable list of statistics, and falsely believe the problem is rectified. It isn't.

Crime prevention takes a community-wide effort every day and night. In Inkster such an effort is proving successful and the criminal element is learning that the community will not tolerate crime.

Residents must now maintain their commitment to a safe Inkster.

Personal safety

Long ago, I reached a point in my life when I stopped living in fear for my personal safety. Perhaps that's somewhat misleading, as I don't ever remember being distinctly conscious of any omnipresent fear for my well being. And, it's not that I stopped looking both ways before crossing the street, it's simply that I've never been preoccupied with notions of every possible harm that might befall me and mine.

The photographs in the papers and on television this weekend of the victims of the soccer stadium fire in Bradford, England were troubling and thought provoking, however.

Fire is but one of the myriad of dangers that threaten our survival. The memory of the pain of burnt flesh that no doubt all of us have experienced to some degree is particularly haunting and threatening. In the newspaper business you see many personal tragedies and, to a degree, become somewhat desensitized to grisly sights and stories. The film of the spectators running in flames from the 79-year old wooden bleachers was gruesome to even the most hardened eye. People with hair and clothing ablaze were thrown to the ground to quench the inferno engulfing their bodies.

I'm reminded of how little I have come to concern myself with where the nearest fire exit is in a public theater, whether the smoke alarm at home is in working order or where the nearest fire extinguisher is in my office. For that matter, I rarely think about whether I really know what I would do if the airplane I'm flying in actually had to ditch over water, what action I would take if confronted by a thug or what I might do if I witnessed a serious auto accident or other tragedy.

Something about the soccer stadium fire brought all this to mind. I can think back on all the tragic scenes I've viewed over the year that resulted in everything from kids with broken legs to charred corpses that never escaped from burning autos--body parts scattered along a half-mile stretch of railroad track after a collision, or a bullet-riddled body found in the woods. Victims caught unaware, distracted, with their guard down who fell prey to an accident, someone's bad judgement, unfortunate coincidence or the premeditated desire of another to cause harm, all are commonplace in this business.

Every day each of us skirts potential death, injury or disfigurement by merely getting out of bed in the morning and dealing with life. Never would I advocate a phobia-laden psyche that dwells on every negative possibility imaginable. What I do believe in is protecting oneself from unnecessary and recognizable harm. Reasonable precautions and a degree of anticipation and forethought can go a long way toward improving the odds of survival.

Following another driver by one car length at 60 miles per hour on the freeway can predictably get you hurt or killed...if you use gasoline to light your barbeque, you can anticipate an explosion that could cause singed hair and flesh... using power equipment like electric drills, saws and lathes without being trained in operational and safety procedures can result in lost fingers, toes and eyes.

People always think that "it" only happens to "others" and seem genuinely surprised when tragedy strikes them. If each of us would listen up when the fire department offers safety tips, the secretary of state publishes highway safety rules, when the plant or office posts posters reminding all of the safe procedures in equipment handling, when insurance companies or police departments offer security precautions, we would all live healthier, happier...and longer lives.

See you next week.

Education in Romulus

To the Editor:

As we begin planning graduation activities, we have spent time thinking about the quality of education our three kids have received in Romulus. Without any second thoughts we can safely say we are proud, pleased and satisfied with the results.

We feel our senior is equipped with the tools to continue her education successfully in any U.S. college.

There are many positive things happening in our district but it seems only the negative are subject to board, administration and parent discussion. We would like to point out that Romulus High School has one of the strongest science departments ever offered.

Through the years, teachers like Mr. Kenjon, Mr. Knutson, Mr. Harper, Mr. Orme and Mr. Baldwin have challenged our kids and instilled in them an excitement and respect for science. Our special thanks to Mr. Cole for not only allowing the kids to experience science but for being a friend and adviser.

Our special thanks to Mr. James who spends many hours of his personal time with band students. We have enjoyed your concerts the last four years.

At the Junior High, we appreciate Mr. Kahle, Ms. Cook, Mr. Cuhrran, Ms. Soltesz and Ms. Shirley who encouraged and "made the difference" in our daughter's education at a critical time.

There have been times when the system has been less than perfect and for those times, counselors, Ms. Bradford and Mr. Wilkerson, have worked cooperatively with us to remedy the situation.

Last, but certainly not least, we couldn't forget Charolette

Price who prepared all the kids in the sixth grade to be independent, organized, conscientious, and ready to except responsibility for themselves.

There are so many more teachers through the years that have been a positive force in the lives of our kids. We apologize for not mentioning all of you but realize we know of your dedication and we think you are doing a terrific job.

We feel the teachers need the confidence and support of this community to urge board members to apply pressure to settle the teachers contract. Many people are surprised to find out they have worked for three years without one and are looking at a fourth. We value education - we hope you do too.

RICHARD & JEANNE NIEDERMEYER, Romulus

Dark seems brighter

To the Editor: The week of April 26 through the sixth of May was "White Cane" week and many of the citizens who are blessed with sight and hearing were given the opportunity to help those who are not. The final dollar count is not yet in, but rest assured - every last penny donated will be spent in the fight against blindness, hearing defects, or put back into the community.

Those who need, but cannot afford an eye exam or hearing test will be referred to the "Lions Clubs", investigated and arrangements will be made for whatever is needed and those same Lions Clubs will pay the bill. Those of you who donated are the ones that make this possible and we "Lions" thank-you for giving us the means to help others.

One of the ways, beside donations that you can help is to watch your diet, keeping in mind that diabetes is one of the leading causes of vision impairment!

To those who gave to a "Lion" - we thank-you very much. Your gift might buy a Braille watch or train a dog or such. Perhaps it will buy a book, in Braille, so we can read. But, just the thought you gave, was wonderful, indeed.

Lions in traffic, selling canes, surely seems a fright. But, they don't mind, because you see, they have the gift of sight. The "Lions" thank you very much and certainly, so do we. Because of your donations, it will help us better to "see".

We may never "see" like you a beautiful tree or lake. But, you have made our handicap much easier to take. To those who reached within and made their purses lighter "God Bless" you all and thanks - You made the dark seem brighter!

Blood drive success

To the Editor:

This year's Blood Drive held in Canton for the Children's Leukemia Foundation was again a great success. Thanks to the generosity of our community and people from surrounding communities that stopped to talk to me at Meijers Thrifty Acres on Friday, April 26.

We had 75 donors and received 65 pints of blood. The sharing and caring of our friends will provide much needed blood for research and life sustaining needs.

Thank you again for your kindness and support and taking your precious time from your busy schedule to help others in their time of need. See you next year.

Timely coverage

To the Editor:

We would like to thank The Romulus Roman for the excellent coverage of the Romulus Sesquicentennial celebration. It has helped inform the community of this historic happening!

The Time Capsule Edition on May 1, 1985 was very impressive. The photos selected were excellent and the whole edition was well done.

Faust, Keith to address area Democrats

State Sen. William Faust (D-Westland), State Rep. William Keith (D-Garden City) and a representative of the Peace Resource Center of Western Wayne County will serve as guest speakers at the regular monthly meeting of the 15th District Democratic Organization, scheduled at 8 p.m. tomorrow (May 16) at UAW Region 1-E, 9650 Telegraph, Taylor.

Faust, who recently resigned his post as senate minority leader, was first elected to the senate in 1966 after serving as a Nankin Township official. Elected as majority leader of the senate in 1976, Faust serves on the Commerce Committee and the Legislative Council.

A graduate of the University of Michigan, Faust was selected one of the 10 outstanding legislators in the country in 1979 and 1980 and was honored as the Legislator of the Year in 1980 by the Michigan Citizens Lobby. He served as publisher and editor of the Wayne Dispatch from 1956 to 1960 and managing editor of The Associated Newspapers from 1960 to 1963.

Faust will speak on legislation in the senate.

Keith, who has served in the house of representatives since 1972, is a special administrator to Speaker Gary Owen. He chairs the House Education Committee and is a member of the Corporations and Finance, Economic Development and Energy and Colleges and Universities committees.

A banker for 19 years prior to his election to the legislature, Keith is a graduate of the American Institute of Banking and the University of Michigan school of banking.

Keith will speak on education.

The Peace Resource Center of Western Wayne County is dedicated to stopping and reversing the proliferation of nuclear weapons. Founded by Johanna Fectter, the group has a mailing list of more than 250.

Welcome!

Although Wayne County Executive William Lucas did not officially announce his switch to the Republican Party until a day later, Vice President George Bush and the executive were all smiles last Tuesday as the Vice President attended a fundraising effort at the Detroit Athletic Club. Both officials were lavish in their praise of each other's performance. The next day, Lucas announced his party change, which he admitted was the world's worst kept secret.

Want to be an astronaut?

A chance to find out what it's like to be an astronaut is one of approximately 200 learning options Wayne County youths can participate in during 4-H Exploration Days, June 19-21, at Michigan State University.

"The purpose of 4-H Exploration Days is to give young people a chance to increase their knowledge and skills in a particular subject area," says Margaret Leskosky, Wayne County Extension 4-H Youth Agent.

Participants in the "Young Astronaut" option will learn about space, the movements of the planets and studies of the sun and moon.

"This option is an excellent opportunity for young people to learn more about space technology," Ms. Leskosky says. "It will be an exciting hands-on option."

In addition, participants will tour the Michigan Space Center in Jackson and sit in the Gemini Space Ship.

Wayne County young people interested in attending 4-H Exploration Days should contact Ms. Bobbi Fairman at the Wayne County Cooperative Extension Service office, or call 721-6576.

Grants, planning to merge

Canton trustees have indicated they will pursue long-range plans to consolidate functions in grants and planning departments.

The decision followed the resignation of Grants Coordinator Terry Carroll, who left the township recently for a Garden City post. Filling in for Carroll on a part-time consultant basis for 30 days will be Frank Pascarella, former Belleville city manager.

Presented to the board as a long-range solution was a proposal for the creation of a single department for Economic Development, Planning and Grants activities -- a reorganization Economic Growth Director Dave Nicholson said would reduce the township's cost for a grants coordinator.

The department would include positions for director, assistant director, two research associates, a secretary and clerk-typist, Nicholson said.

"Obviously, I am describing several positions which sound new," he stated. "However, the job duties for those positions would not change dramatically from jobs currently being performed."

"In this proposed reorganization," Nicholson said, "the primary goal would be to provide efficient coordination and to maximize the ability of available personnel. I believe the proposed reorganization would ultimately save the township $8,000 to $10,000 this year."

The proposal is similar, Nicholson explained, to one prepared by Trustee Robert Padgett in 1981.

Padgett's original recommendation explained that a rapidly growing population had required the addition of several township departments.

"The history has been to add a new department each time an additional function became necessary as opposed to integrating new functions into existing departments," Padgett explained. "This practice has sometimes resulted in a loss of efficiency."

Utilizing one department, Padgett said, would consolidate similar and related functions to better utilize staff time and talents.

Trustees asked that staffers present alternatives for consolidating grants activities at the board's meeting this week.

Congratulations Students, Parents, Teachers

Virtue may be its own reward, but academic preparation in high school also offers material rewards. The students named above receive full tuition scholarships to Wayne State University. The WSU Merit Scholarship Program recognizes students who achieved mean grade point scores of at least 3.85 during their high school careers. These students join the 1,400 WSU Merit Scholarship recipients on campus.

The Merit Scholarship Program is one of many programs which attract top scholars to Wayne State University. The WSU Merit Scholars come from the top 5 percent of their high school classes. In fact, the average student entering WSU comes from the top one-third of his or her high school class, has a 3.22 grade point average and an ACT score of 21. Once again, Congratulations students, parents and teachers. For more information, call your "Opportunity Line" at 577-1000 from 8:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Wayne State University serves the community: Wayne County is home to almost 16,000 students and 54,000 alumni; Oakland County more than 5,300 students and almost 28,000 alumni; Macomb County more than 4,500 students and more than 13,000 alumni.

WSU is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer.

just married

Pettygrove-Hall exchange nuptial vows

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Hall

The First Presbyterian Church in Concordia, Kansas, provided the setting for the April 27 nuptial of Kim Annette Pettygrove of Mesquite, Texas, and Karl Ellwood Hall, also of Mesquite.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Pettygrove of Concordia, Kansas. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellwood Hall of Belleville.

The early evening ceremony was officiated by the Rev. Darrell Silkman, with Mrs. Judy Keil as organist and Randy Lagasse as soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a Priscilla gown of ivory satin, with a Victorian neckline. The fitted lace sleeves adorned with seed pearls and iridescent sequins, tapered to points over the hands. The lace and satin fitted bodice was trimmed with Alencon lace and classic beading. The skirt, which fell into a cathedral train, featured an inset of beaded and pearl-accented lace. The bottom of the skirt and the train were also edged in lace and pearls.

The bride wore a short brimmed hat of ivory schiffli lace with puffs and streamers of ivory illusion and a blusher of French veiling. Her cascade bouquet was made up of ivory sweetheart roses, ivory dendrobium orchids, lavender freesia and fresh greenery.

She asked her sister, Lynne Bauer of Colorado Springs, Colorado, to serve as her matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Stacy Leeders of Grand Prairie, Texas, and Kathy Hall of Belleville, sister of the groom.

The attendants wore black and violet striped iridescent taffeta sheath dresses with peplum and detachable puffed sleeves. They carried open stemmed bouquets of lavender roses, with a touch of lavender freesia and fresh greenery.

The groom asked Don Foster of Belleville to perform the duties of best man. Serving as groomsmen were Mark Shelp of Belleville and Rick Clutts of Flint, with Todd Pettygrove of Lawrence, Kansas, brother of the bride, and Sam Bauer of Colorado Springs, Colorado, brother-in-law of the bride, as the ushers.

The candlelighters were Janet Hammond of Topeka, Kansas, and Karen Ferguson of Dallas, Texas.

The ringbearer was Andrew Creal of Eagle, Kansas, with Shauna Zumbro of Belleville as the flowergirl.

A reception for the newlyweds and their guests was held at the Elk's Lodge in Concordia.

The new Mrs. Hall is a graduate of the University of Kansas School of Pharmacy and is employed as a pharmacist at Eckerd Drug in Dallas, Texas.

Her husband is a graduate of the Video Technical Institute and the American Trade Institute, both located in Dallas, and is employed as assistant chief engineer for the Summit Hotel Central in Dallas.

The newlyweds honeymooned in Los Angeles, California, prior to returning to their home in Mesquite.

anniversary time

Tkachuks mark 33rd year

A horse-drawn carriage, complete with a driver dressed in a top hat and tails, ferried Henry and Joyce Tkachuk of Romulus to the Brass Belle Restaurant in Belleville for a recent 33rd wedding anniversary dinner.

The couple--she is the former Joyce Stull of Belleville--exchanged their wedding vows on April 26, 1952, at the First United Methodist Church in Belleville.

The April 27 dinner party was hosted by their son, Henry of Belleville, and daughter Shirley Robbins, also of Belleville, and their grandsons, Todd and Kris Robbins.

Unable to attend the party was son Terrance Tkachuk of Norwich, New York.

A sheet cake of two intertwined hearts was served at the party.

The couple has lived in the Romulus community for 27 years. He is an employee of Kelsey Hayes in Romulus, while his wife works at Huron Cleaners, also in Romulus. Their hobbies include camping, card playing and fishing.

dan's dogs

by dan a. morris

Editor's note: Dan Morris has been a professional dog trainer for more than 20 years and has worked in all phases of dog training. If you have a specific problem, his advice is available by writing him in care of Associated Newspapers, P.O. Box 578, Wayne, Michigan 48184. He will reply in this column.

While stationed in Wiesbaden, Germany, as a Canine Instructor for the U.S. Air Force, I met a German trainer named Hans who had a very exceptional dog called Caesar. Caesar could respond to more than 100 different gestures and commands in the German language as well as in English.

Caesar was capable of responding to 35 different obstacle jumps, hurdles, males, etc., with one word: "Go." The German method of training is quite advanced compared to American dog training.

It is not at all unusual to enter the finest German restaurant and see a dog lying by his master's side. The stress of smelling food is unbearable for most dogs, but the respect these dogs have for their masters overcomes that stress.

The economic situation in Germany prevents many people from owning refrigerators, therefore, shopping was done on a daily basis for each meal.

It was not uncommon to see a German shepherd sitting in front of a store holding a wicker basket in his mouth while waiting for his master to return. In the basket could be a variety of staples and meat, yet the dog would not touch it.

Six other instructors and I would travel on the weekends throughout Germany and attend international dog shows or private clubs, sometimes joined by the German Polizei. Our purpose was to show the Germans how the sentry dog was used by the United States military K-9 program. These weekend tours provided vast knowledge and communication between the American Forces and the German public. The Germans would open their homes in friendship because of a common bond — the dog!

Training done by the Germans was something not learned through books but instead passed on from one generation to another. Every learning aid or new research applied to dog training was freely exhibited or passed on. The main goal was to improve the method of developing and controlling an animal.

The dog clubs were not as they are here, but instead designed for advanced training as well as research on the animal. The dog used in shows was completely guard trained yet that same dog, seconds later, played with the family children and their playmates. What impressed me most was the use of one dog to hunt rabbit, quail, pheasant, defend the home, track lost children while maintaining a mild, friendly temperament.

The European dog was a household pet, a hunter, a protection dog, a tracking dog, and still, above all, used daily as a working tool for the entire family, proving how we underestimate the dog's ability, knowledge and eagerness to learn.

Your responses to my column are appreciated. Keep in touch with me at 41727 Joy Road, Canton, MI 48187 or phone (313) 455-8892. Due to space constraints the original letter to The Letter Writer is always shortened in this column.

EMPLOYEE QUILTS BUT IN SUCH A NICE WAY !!!

Dear Letter Writer:

I want to say 'thanks' for the talk we had on Friday. God, how I needed to do that.

I'm very grateful to you for putting that certain person that I care so much about into a more realistic focus. I feel some mental release since I can now admit to myself what he is—yet even now I find myself wanting to make excuses for him to try to defend him. My feelings are very strong where he's concerned, and I'm hoping I will no longer allow him to have the power to upset me. I know I need to control my feelings when I deal with him. I'm going to work on it harder than ever. I guess the true test will be the next time he and I are together. I hope I can see, hear and enjoy him as ever, but not lose sight of the fact that there is a lot I don't like. I guess it hurts to see your Knight Fall Off His Horse!

Saturday, after our talk, I felt totally drained. I went to bed in the middle of the afternoon and slept for 2 1/2 hours. Had my boys not come in to say goodbye before visiting with their father, I would have slept much longer. Sunday I spent half of the day crying over nothing and everything. I'm extremely tired both physically and emotionally and because of this, I've decided I cannot work Fridays or any other time for a while even though I need the money badly. I need to try to get back my positive outlook and then check into possible financial aid; the possibility of a complete job change and then deal with the immediate problem of no money. I'm also sorry because I think working with you would be a wonderful experience. You have a terrific positive attitude, and I think I would have felt encouraged watching you make a life for yourself.

I'd enjoy getting together once in a while for drinks and/or dinner, if you have the time and would also like to.

I'm sorry things have worked out this way, but I hope you appreciate my honesty with you and don't hold it against me.

My Best, AB

COMMENTS:

In May of 1984, I hired AB to work for me here at The Letter Writer. After working for a couple of days, AB asked me if she could discuss something with me. I, of course, replied that she could and we then spent several hours talking about her pending divorce, her present romance, her financial situation, etc. A day or two later, I received the above letter from her which speaks for itself. I printed this letter as I think it is important to note that it is extremely well-written, sincere, and above all, honest with regard to her feelings and her inability to continue working for me. Even though AB quit her position here at The Letter Writer, I wouldn't hesitate to rehire her in the future as she was so fair and so candid. There seems to be a good lesson to be learned here with regard to how to handle a seemingly bad employment situation for AB, at least, honesty was the best policy.

Wayne-Metro Agency adds to its emergency programs

Wayne-Metropolitan Community Services Agency is offering another Emergency Services Program to needy persons living in Wayne County outside of Detroit.

Beginning immediately the program will help low-income persons by assisting soup kitchens which provide prepared meals; distributing boxes of groceries; providing emergency lodging, and assisting those faced with eviction from rented quarters or from mortgage foreclosures.

Persons needing food should phone the Food Hot Line at 721-4470 for referral to the closest distribution site. Persons needing lodging or assistance with rent or mortgage should phone 843-2550 or 728-7510 for referral. Individuals or groups wishing to donate foods, paper goods, and other household items may contact 721-4470.

Luther J. Flanagan, executive director of Wayne-Metro CSA, said the program was designed to meet the needs of people caught in an immediate and urgent crisis situation. Some $68,000 received from the State Department of Social Services will assist 12 soup kitchens provide prepared meals. Another $250,000 received from the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) will provide boxed groceries, lodging and limited rental and mortgage assistance. The program has the flexibility to assist most families faced with an emergency situation requiring food or shelter.

Cooperating with Wayne-Metro in the Emergency Services Program are several private sector agencies and businesses. No cash will be given directly to individuals receiving assistance under this project, and the benefits are limited to a 30-day period. Hotels, motels and rooming houses will be providing temporary shelter to families up to 30 days through a voucher system. Soup kitchens will provide prepared meals. Mortgage companies and landlords will be reimbursed through the voucher system also.

Income eligibility for boxed groceries and shelter assistance is at 125 percent of March, 1985, Federal Poverty Guidelines (one person, yearly income of $6,563). Since rent/shelter payment is limited to one month, renters seeking help must bring evidence of ability to make one payment along with the required notice of eviction and court case number. For mortgage assistance, the applicant must bring evidence of ability to make one payment along with the required notice of foreclosure. Documentation of income and of residency is required. Declaration of need and of Wayne County residency is adequate to receive prepared meals.

Flanagan said that Wayne-Metro is regularly distributing foods such as the USDA surplus cheese, butter and dry milk, and privately donated foods through a volunteer network involving more than 100 sites and more than 2,000 volunteers. About 30,000 households are served monthly. Also, Wayne-Metro's Energy Assistance Division helps hundreds through administering programs such as Targeted Fuel Assistance, Heat Bank and SURE.

FRUGAL.

That one word certainly describes Nick Coluccelli, in stock and parts at the Wayne terminal. In fact, during his eleven years of service at SEMTA, being frugal has been just part of the job.

Nick is very aware that money he spends on new parts is the taxpayers' hard-earned money. But he's also aware that the safety of the driver and the passengers comes first. "I'm not going to buy a part just because it's cheap or because someone recommends it," says Nick. "It's simply a matter of finding the right part at the right price."

Frugal. That's Nick Coluccelli. But he also brings other outstanding qualities to the job — just like all SEMTA people who make SEMTA the bus system that works. They're simply doing their best to be the best. As for Nick, it just means doing it very frugally.

DRIVING TO BE THE BEST

Mr. Hollywood

Comedian Sharp to lead Romulus parade

By STEVE O'LEARY
ANP Staff Writer

Comedian Thom Sharp really needs no introduction in this area. After all, he's a regular on Dick Purtan's radio program when he's in town, he is featured in numerous local and national television commercials, is a regular on "Dick Clark's Bloopers and Practical Jokes, where he enjoys the title "Mr. Hollywood."

The west Dearborn native has been in three features on the silver screen, and even had a semi-successful (i.e., it was very funny, but all the Nielson families had meetings at the moose lodge those nights) starring role in a summer replacement comedy series called "The Half-Hour Comedy Hour."

But Sharp's biggest moment in showbiz may be just around the corner, because he has been asked to be the Grand Marshal of the Romulus Sesquicentennial Parade, which is scheduled to begin at 6 p.m. Friday, at city hall, and proceed to the festival grounds off Bibbins Road.

"Sure, I know what people will be thinking as I ride by on the back of a convertible, they'll be going 'honey, who the heck is that bald guy? Isn't that our neighbor? Isn't that Joe Schmoyan? I guess they couldn't get a real person this year.' Because," says Sharp, "look at me and what do you think of, the guy who sold you your refrigerator, insurance claims adjustor, right?"

Granted, Sharp may not look like the most exciting guy in the world. But, as anyone who saw him in one of last week's sold out shows at Mark Ridley's Comedy Castle can attest to, he can raise the temperature of even a cold room in a matter of minutes, either with his rapier-like wit or with one of his (many) original songs, like the ever popular "They Don't

vious catholic school childhood, "Surfing For Peace," and a crowd favorite, "I Don't Know Whether To Kill Myself Or Go Bowling," which is usually dedicated to the people in Taylor.

The 37-year-old now makes his home in California, but makes frequent trips back to visit his friends and relatives in the area. "I don't tour the comedy clubs much anymore though, but I always come in just to play the Comedy Castle three or four times a year.

"And, of course, I'll be there for the big parade!"

Sharp first came to the attention of Romulus Mayor Beverly McAnally when, in an interview for Monthly Detroit magazine he was asked to come up with a better slogan than "Do it in Detroit," and said "Say yes to Romulus.

"The next thing I knew, I got a very nice letter from the mayor telling me that that really was their motto, that it's on bumper stickers and everything. Then she asked me to be the grand marshal and I jumped at it. It's an honor."

"...she (mayor) asked me to be the grand marshal and I jumped at it."

Sharp's original songs include "I Don't Know Whether to Kill Myself or Go Bowling."

"...they'll be going 'honey, who the heck is that bald guy'."

Charity bowling set in Westland

The Wayne Jaycees will sponsor a Child-Adult Charity Bowling Tournament at 1 p.m. June 9 at Town 'n' Country Lanes with all proceeds to be donated to the fight against child abuse.

Proceeds from the handicap competition will be given to the Rosalyn Bryant Foundation, a non-profit organization which assists abused children.

Fee for the event is $10 for a two-person team, which must include an adult and a youngster 17 years of age or younger. Non-bowlers also are encouraged to participate.

Registration for the competition is being conducted at the establishment, located at 1100 S. Wayne Road in Westland or by calling 595-0081 or 729-4581.

Rosalyn Bryant was a young child who died as a result of child abuse, according to a spokesman for the Jaycees.

Students win film awards

Seven productions submitted by students in the Wayne-Westland School District were featured at the 16th annual Michigan Student Film-Video Festival.

Four junior level films from local students received first division honors, announced Festival director Ron Kuitula, including a first place award to Nate Pride of Franklin Junior High for his animation "Hazards of Smoking."

Also shown were films made by Marshall students Jennifer Leonard, "Flea Funk," and Ed Deacon, "Me-Lee Warriors," and a group project Franklin entitled "As the Seed Grows."

The four animations were produced through Project Focus, a grant funded by the Michigan Council for the Arts and the Wayne-Westland Foundation for the Improvement of Instruction. Resident film maker Jeff Bloomer visited four junior high schools to provide assistance during the past few months.

The senior video category included "Voices from Wayne Memorial," produced by Jennifer Parlette and Michelle Mihail. The Wayne Memorial students earned a first division award.

Debbie Davis of John Glenn High School produced a film, "A La Mode," which explores the world of fashion. Another animation, "Tacky Movie" created by Todd Watts of Wayne Memorial, uses hundreds of color thumb tacks to tell a story.

Both Davis and Watts made their films in the media production class at the William D. Ford Vocational-Technical Center.

The films were shown last Saturday at the Detroit Public Library as part of the film-video festival, co-sponsored by the Detroit Area Film Teachers and the Detroit Public Library.

An original

Some 76 first and second graders from Field Elementary School in Canton will appear in "Alphabet Land," an original musical play written by Shirlee Jacobson, a teacher at the school. John Heimstra and Shirley Francis have assisted in the production, which provides a learning experience in dramatics and music as well as reinforcement of reading skills. Curtain time is 7 p.m. May 16 at the school. Michael Woodruff is cast as the king.

Romulus bands shatter school marks at festival

The Romulus Junior High School concert and symphonic bands shattered several local school system records in earning first division ratings recently at the State Band Festival.

The 60-member concert group, which competed in the Class C classification, received two I's and a II in their concert performance along with a I in sightreading for their final I rating, the highest ever achieved by a Romulus Junior High concert band at the state festival.

Competing in Class A, the 78-member symphonic band was awarded a first division (superior rating) from all four judges, only the third time in school history that a band had received all I's.

According to band director Richard Kruse, the symphonic band performance also marked only the second time that a band had received all I's at both the district and state festivals (the last being the 1977 junior high band). Only six junior high school bands out of the 624 which were represented by two bands received a I rating. Three Class A bands in the state earned a I from all judges.

The combined ratings of the Romulus concert and symphonic bands showed seven first divisions and one second division, highest in the state this year.

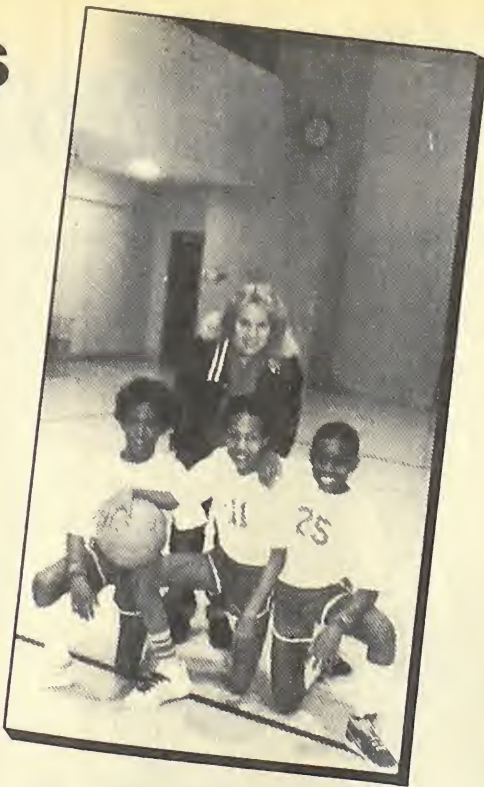

The other bands to receive two final I rankings were Flint Whittier, North Branch, Chipewah Hills, Vassar and Charlotte junior highs.

Kruse termed the Romulus showing a "memorable performance."

Inkster cagers watch Pistons

Brake School cagers upended Hicks, 9-6, in a five-minute basketball game played during the halftime of a recent Detroit Pistons' contest. Brake players, coached by George Young, included Leonard James, DeJuan Jones, Carlos Williams, Vincent Foster and LeBan Washington. Hicks, coached by Bonnie Bernard, featured Robert Williams, Keith Adams, Jeff Landers, Wes Stephens and Jermaine Ellis. Members of the two squads are pictured at right.

Horsemen to meet

Tax consultant Jacob Strecker will be the featured speaker at a meeting of the Romulus Horseman's Association at 8 p.m. May 15 at Romulus City Hall, 11111 Wayne Road.

Few people are aware that the horning industry in Michigan is one of the largest industries in the state, Strecker says. Despite the funds invested in land, horses, facilities and equipment, the Internal Revenue Service is skeptical of the legitimacy of the industry, he claims.

Strecker will discuss IRS guidelines and relate his experiences related to IRS audits of horse businesses.

The speaker is a member of the American Institute and Michigan Association of certified public accountants.

The meeting is free and open to the public.

Boys choir to perform

The internationally acclaimed Boys Choir of Harlem will appear at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Masonic Temple in a concert sponsored by the Federated King's Daughters-Detroit Chapter I

Club. The choir presents a repertoire which includes classical, contemporary, popular, early American, jazz, gospel and spirituals. Tickets are priced at $10.

Skating party set

The Inkster High School Student Council will present its first annual roller skating party May 16 at Skateland West, 37550 Cherry Hill, Westland. Tickets are priced at $2 with skate rental $1. Proceeds will be donated to the scholarship fund. The party will feature a local deejay and a large video screen.

Huron wins 'Little Caesar's' baseball title

Romulus falls in finals, 6-4

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Unknown and unheralded New Boston Huron rallied from an 8-0 deficit to jolt host, Belleville, 10-8, in the first round, then picked off Romulus 6-4 in the championship round to capture the third annual Belleville 'Little Caesar's' Baseball Invitational Tournament Title staged over the weekend.

"You got to give them a lot of credit," said Romulus coach Dennis Stoh. "They refused to quit. We didn't know much about them because of the lack of contact and publicity, but they really are a fine team."

Romulus had turned back Ypsilanti Lincoln in the first round 6-2, while New Boston Huron rallied from an 8-0 first inning deficit to defeat Coach Tom Fielder's Tigers.

In the finals Romulus drew blood first as the Eagles got on the scoreboard in the first inning, but Huron came right back in their second to tie it up at 1-all. The two teams exchanged runs in the fourth, but the Chiefs went ahead 3-2 in their fifth and added three more in the sixth. Romulus responded with their last two runs in the same inning.

Huron received an exceptional hitting performance from Al Livermore who ho-

A new name for tourney?

Ray Verrot, sponsor of the Little Caesar's Baseball Invitational Tournament would like to see the tournament named for Romulus' Charlie Lau.

Lau grew up in Romulus and went on to win fame as a Major League player and pitching coach before succumbing to cancer last year.

"I went to school with Charlie," Verrot said, "and I believe it would be a fitting tribute to name this tournament in his behalf. I hope the coaches will take action on this as soon as possible."

mered off of losing pitcher Dave Blevins in the second inning. Livermore also swatted a two-run single in the sixth. Dan Ziegler also rapped three hits - all singles - off of Blevins who worked the first five innings, struck out three and walked one before giving way to reliever Donnie Shultz.

Lester Harris went the distance for Huron to pick up the crucial victory. He also needed some relief help, getting it from Dale Hubert. Harris allowed five hits, notched five strikeouts but walked seven.

In the preliminary round, Stoh sent Tony Yandura to the mound and the young hurler turned in a superb performance, going the distance. Yandura scattered eight Ypsi Lincoln hits, struck out six and walked but two. Taking the loss was righthander Jim Berry who was tagged for seven hits.

Romulus put it away in the sixth when the Eagles struck for three runs thanks to a walk to Terry MacIntosh, an error which put Sean Vernatt aboard and a two-run single off the bat of Bobbie Stratton. Stratton eventually scored on a sacrifice fly ball by Steve Malgay. Ypsi tied the game at 2-all in

Romulus managed to get past Ypsilanti Lincoln in the first round of the third annual Belleville Little Caesar's Invitational but lost the title to New Boston Huron. Glenn is host for Class A regional track

Belleville adds Hidenfelter Relays title to record

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

The area's high school track & field boys and girls teams will travel to Westland John Glenn on Saturday in search for Class A regional honors and dreams of qualifying for the state finals.

"We'll get many of the area teams including Belleville, Romulus, the Livonia schools and a host of others competing for the regional title," said Glenn coach Ernie Righetti, "and the competition should be among the finest in the state."

In order to qualify for the

June 1 state championships, an athlete or relay team must finish in the top three places of any of the 15 events or post a state qualifying time or distance in the event.

In the meantime, Belleville captured the Harry Hidenfelter Memorial Relays staged Friday at Glenn as Coach Dave Medley's Tigers continue to pick up momentum for the league and regional championships.

Belleville garnered 93 points to beat out Livonia Churchill for top honors while Wayne Memorial finished third.

Belleville had four first places thanks to its 880-meter relay team made up of Clarence Patton, Terrance Washington, Dale Green and Miller Thomas who were clocked in 1:19.5. Medley's 400-meter quartet of DeAndre Toole, Patton, Clark and Green was the best in the field. Their winning time was 43.5. And the Belleville low and high hurdle teams also struck gold.

In the highs, Bill Armstrong teamed with Durane Barrow, Aaron McCombs, and Miller Thomas for a 56.1, while the lows' line-up consisted of Mark Duff, Armstrong, Barrow and Thomas. They were clocked in 59.0.

Belleville's Matt Larcinese's toss of 161 feet, 10 inches triggered a record-breaking team effort by the Tigers in the discus. But the 436 feet over-all record effort was short-lived as Churchill came back and nipped that mark. Ken Krug and Mike Hardy were also members of the Tiger discus team.

Belleville increased its Wolverine 'A' Conference record to 4-1 on the year at the expense of Dearborn Fordson. The Tigers turned back the Tractors 97-45. They wrapped up the conference dual meet phase of the season yesterday against Trenton and will host the conference championships a week from today on May 22.

"The league championships should prove to be very interesting," Medley said.

Westland gymnast eyes U.S. honors

Westlander Monica Stavros proved that she is among the best young gymnasts in the country.

Competing in New York last week, Stavros managed to finish third in all-around competitions in a field of more than 100 gymnasts representing 25 states.

Stavros placed 10th in the vaulting event, picked up a seventh place on the uneven bars, then was awarded a second place medal in floor exercise and finished with a tie for third place in the all-around.

The Westlander's all-around third place qualified her for the National Junior Olympic Championships which are scheduled for May 16-17 at Florida Atlantic University in Boca Raton.

Monica is a member of the Garden City-based Michigan Academy of Gymnastics and is also a senior at Westland John Glenn. According to Doug Rowe, director and head coach at the academy, Monica has also signed a national letter of intent to compete in gymnastics for the nationally ranked Ohio State Buckeyes. She will be receiving a full athletic scholarship.

Stavros is one of four gymnasts from Michigan who will be attending the Junior Olympic National Championships in Florida. The Michigan contingent will also include Kim Hartwick

Spartans chalk up win No. 5

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

If there is a finer track & field team than Cherry Hill in the Tri-River Conference this season Coach Dick Gordon will know on May 22.

That's when the conference championships will be decided at Southgate Anderson.

And there is where the Spartans will know if they will retain the championship for the 16th consecutive time.

Thrashing Dearborn Heights Crestwood 108-29 and beating Annapolis 101 1/2 to 34 1/2, Cherry Hill stretched its winning streak in the conference to five. The Spartans were to test Southgate Anderson last night, and Coach Gordon believes that Anderson could be the only team to upset his title plans this year. "The league seems to be tougher this year than in the past," he commented. "And Anderson has only lost one dual meet, and that was by a close margin. We need to be ready for this is the toughest time of the season."

After Tuesday's encounter, the Spartans will travel to Chelsea on Saturday to compete in the Class B regional championships. At Chelsea, Cherry Hill will run up against the likes of perennial favorites Dearborn Heights Robichaud and Inkster and Ypsilanti Lincoln. "The Chelsea regional is one of the toughest Class B regionals around," said Gordon. "And it will be an excellent test for our kids."

Cherry Hill has in its present line-up some state-ranked athletes such as Eric Truss, a senior who is considered one of the finest long jumpers in the state and Michael Brown, one of the finest sprinters in the state.

Truss leaped 21 feet in the broad jump to lead the Spartans to their only gold medal at the Hidenfelter Relays staged Friday at Westland John Glenn. Gordon also put in that line-up Bryon Hendricks and Mike Brown.

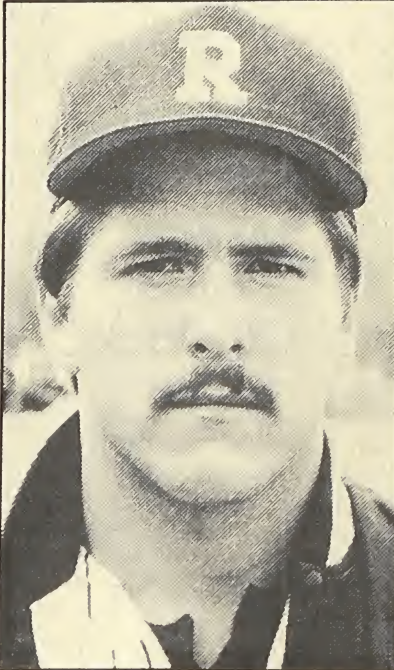

Competing in a field that was dominated by Class A schools, Cherry Hill scored in all but two events at the Hidenfelter which went to Belleville. (Mr. Hidenfelter served as Belleville High's athletic director for approximately 15 years before succumbing to a fatal heart attack.)

Brown anchored both the 400-meter and 800-meter relays. Both finished with third place medals. In the 400, Don Watson led off and then Curtis Brown took over and Zarick Duran and Brown followed pursuit and finished in 44.5. Watson, Truss, Duran and Brown combined for a 1:32.2 in the 800.

In a nip-and-tuck with winner Wayne Memorial, Brown made up a 70-yard difference to nearly pull out the 3,200 meter for the Spartans who had the talents of Wayne Stephens, Bubba Cirkner and Quinn Lawrence in the event. Wayne's winning time was 8:16, while the Spartans were clocked in an 8:16-plus. The Spartans also scored in the 1,600-meter relay thanks to Lawrence, Stephens, Zirkner and Truss who finished fourth with a 3:31. They scored sixth (21.32) in the 6,400-meter with a squad made up of freshmen and a sophomore. The line-up included David Yao, Robert Walker, Scott Leskovitz and Dan Decker.

In the field events, Mike Johnson, Chris Dziadosz and Dominick White combined for a third place in the shot put relay and Johnson, Dziadosz and Andrew Hall were fourth in the discus relay. In the high hurdle shuttle relay, the Spartans were fourth with Matt Edwards, Julio DeSir, Keith Clark and Robert Treadwell and the same foursome was sixth in the lows.

Gordon sees Truss among the regional leaders in the long jump and "Eric also stands a chance of qualifying for state in the low hurdles." Gordon's 2-mile relay team and distance-men Zirkner and Lawrence along with Brown in the 100 and 200 meters should be among the top three in their respective specialities.

the bottom of the fourth, but Romulus took the lead for good with a run in the fifth.

Romulus will take a 14-9 over-all and a 4-4 Metro West Conference record into this week's action after splitting a pair of doubleheaders with its league opponents. Stoh described last week as a "week of the splits".

With Yandura tossing a five-hitter, striking out nine and walking none, the Eagles subdued Taylor Truman 2-1 in what the coach called "our best ball game of the season." With the score tied at 1-1 going into the top of the third, Romulus scored what proved to be the winning run when Stratton walked, moved to second on a passed ball and scored on Steve Thornberry's single.

Yandura then proceeded to gather "goose eggs" the rest of the way.

Blevins was the victim in the nightcap as Truman came back to win a 7-2 decision.

Despite 18 hits, Romulus managed to squeeze out an 8-6 victory over Taylor Center in their first of two games last week. Jeff Barks survived a 10-hit barrage by Taylor to get credit for the victory.

Blevins wielded an explosive bat as he hammered four hits including a triple and three singles. Teammates Thornberry and Bob Sloan each had three hits.

In the nightcap, Taylor Center came back to win a 9-3 decision as loser Dave Bergman gave up 10 hits.

Romulus has another busy week ahead as the Eagles wrap up league competition, weather permitting. They were scheduled to take on Oak Park yesterday for a doubleheader, then host Fordson today for a nonleaguer before heading for Taylor Truman for their season's league finale. The Eagles await the winner of the Lincoln Park and Trenton game to find out who their second round Class A district playoff opponent will be on May 25.

Cherry Hill title express builds momentum

Labelling it as "one of the strongest regionals around", Cherry Hill track & field coach Jess Shough views the trip to Chelsea on Saturday "as very challenging for our girls."

Coming off of the Western Wayne where his Spartans finished sixth in a pack of 18 teams - Ypsilanti Lincoln won, with John Glenn second - Cherry Hill heads into the regionals with an untarnished 5-0 Tri-River Conference record.

"There is little doubt in my mind that the Chelsea regional girls' track & field championships is one of the toughest of its kind if not the strongest around these parts. We have Inkster and Robichaud along with the Western Wayne champ, Ypsilanti Lincoln to contend with."

Shough hopes to see middle distance runner Francetta Saxton and shot putter Janice Kopczyk among the top finishers in their respective events. However, Janice is coming off of a serious knee injury which "will definitely handicap her" according to her coach.

In the meantime, Cherry Hill picked up a 80-44 victory over

Dearborn Heights Annapolis and stunned Dearborn Heights Crestwood 75-50 last week for wins No.4 and No.5 in the conference. Yoland Brown was the mainstay in the win over Annapolis as she ran on three winning relays and also finished second in the 100-meters. Brown's teammates for the winning 880 included Andrea Rose, Terrie Crockett and Saxton who were clocked in 1:59; while the 440-team was made up of Brown, Rose, Dracus Broswell and Jamie Sheahan. They were clocked in 57.03. Nicole Thurman, Terrie Crockett, Saxton and Brown won the mile relay in 4:56.5.

Saxton ran a 2:47.6 to win the 880 and the Spartans made a clean sweep of the relays with the 2-mile team of Lisa Francowiak, Angela Farlay, Rachele Ireland and Saxton.

Shough said that even though Medcalf and Jackie Wells wood with a comfortable point margin, the relays were close and "it could have gone either way." Individual standouts against the Dearborn Heights athletes included Narvette Coedwell who won the high jump; Brown, the 100-yard winner; Braswell, winner of the 440; Saxton, first in the 880 and Ireland, winner of the 2-mile run.

The Spartans placed fifth in the mile relay at the WW relays with Crockett, Farlay, Ireland and Braswell (4:47.1) and they placed fourth with their shot put relay with Kopczyk, Debbie Mecliff and Jackie Wells.

J & D qualifies for national softball tourney

With Bill Hughes collecting three singles and Ron Staples slicing a triple and a single, J & D Auto-Atchinson Ford overpowered Locker Room Sporting Goods 12-0 to capture the United States Slow-Pitch Softball Tournament title.

The championship gave the local team a berth in the world championship which will be held over the Labor Day weekend in Louisville, Ky.

J & D/Atchinson was forced into a "must win" situation with Locker Room Sports of Taylor who are the defending state champs. The two had split in earlier games.

Scoring twice in the first period, J & D built up a 4-0 lead and never looked back. Pitcher Don Staples tossed a three hitter and walked two to sew up the crucial and championship game.

In the first round, the champs met Gene Butman Ford and Staples hammered a pair of homers and a double for five RBIs en route to a 13-8 victory. Ron Bostwick checked in with four hits, one going the distance, and Larry Quartuccio chipped in three hits.

Erupting for nine runs in the fourth inning, J & D Auto turned back a stubborn Timely Chemical 19-10 in the second round. Ron Staples homered and singled and Don Staples had three hits while Cliff Davidson piled up five hits and Bob Fallow had four for the winners.

Mr. B's stood its ground with the champs until the sixth when J & D exploded for four runs to break open a close game and win a 12-7 quarter-final decision. Gary Bowen paced the winners, with four hits, including a pair of doubles and a triple, while Cliff Davidson had a single, double and triple. Jim Kholman managed to blast a triple and double.

Mr. B's got an exceptional performance from Tosso Rumelotis who slammed two homers and singled off of winner Bob Fields.

In their first encounter with Locker Room, a five-run third lifted J & D to a 12-1 triumph with the help of Bowen's four hits, including a triple and Don Staples three safeties. Bill Deegan managed a pair of hits for the losers.

Locker Room, however, forced the issue into a three-

Two outstanding reasons why Westland John Glenn is undefeated in Northwest Suburban track & field this season are Karen Opp (at left) and Laura Grazulis who offer Coach Ernie Righetti's team a wide range of options when it comes to determining the line-up. Opp and Grazulis usually team up with Michele Sanchez and Chris Bahr in the relays while Opp also is an excellent long jumper. The Rockets shoot for their second consecutive conference championship on May 22 at North Farmington and will host the Class A regional championships on Saturday.

Glenn girls favored to retain track title

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Undefeated in their first five outings, defending champ Westland John Glenn is favored to retain its Northwest Suburban Conference track & field title when the league teams converge upon North Farmington May 22 to decide the 1985 championships.

"We have some sore spots," said Glenn coach Ernie Righetti, "but these girls are among the hardest working bunch I have ever coached. And their 5-0 league record reflects their efforts. I believe we have an excellent chance to repeat barring any serious injury to key performers."

The Glenn men's team will have to find a way to surpass North Farmington, a team that inflicted the only loss on their 4-1 record thus far this season. But the Rockets have a tough Garden City contingent ahead of them as well. Garden City turned back North in their dual confrontation.

In the meantime, Glenn finished sixth in the field at the Hidenfelter Relays and the Rocket coach believes, "taking into consideration the excellent teams that competed we did pretty well." The Hidenfelter title went to Belleville which piled up 88 points, followed by Livonia Churchill (81), Wayne Memorial (57), Cherry Hill (54), Livonia Franklin (43) and John Glenn (41).

The Westlanders won two events: The pole vault relay made up of Ron Bushaw, Chip Hall and Kevin Dowd who soared 33 feet, 6 inches for its gold; while the 6,400 meter relay with a line-up of Frank Shelly, Todd Lilla, Jim Lakatos and Kyle Szukiaszt posted a winning 19:14 mark.

The Glenn girls finished second behind Ypsilanti at the Western Wayne Relays also hosted by Glenn. Ypsi had 85 points as compared to the Westland-based high school's 69. Trenton was third with 64.

The Rockets had the winning long jump relay team in Karen Opp, Michele Sanchez and Julie Hysko who had a combined effort of 44 feet, 2 inches; the Glenn shot put team of Ann Parish, Stacey Graham, Heather Hysko won with a new meet record performance of 101 feet; while the medley relay team also set a new record with Opp, Chris Bahr, Sanchez and Laura Grazulis. They were clocked in 9:38.9.

Glenn also set a record in winning the mile relay using the talents of Grazulis, Sanchez, Opp and Theresa Hatkow who were clocked in 4:10.6.

Tigers regroup for playoffs

Coach Tom Fielder and his Belleville Tigers will attempt to regroup and get ready for the Class A pre-district baseball playoffs which begins for the local ball club today.

The Tigers are scheduled to meet Ann Arbor Huron at 4 p.m. on the home diamond in the pre-district qualifying round.

"We have to eliminate our mistakes and play solid defense," Fielder said. "I know we have the potential to play good ball and this is the 'Worst of times'

Glenn falls from the ranks of first place

By KEITH DEMOLAY
ANP Special Writer

It was the best of times and it was the worst of times this past week for the Rockets of Westland John Glenn, who suffered two consecutive Northwest Suburban Conference losses which cost Coach Norm Hoenes's club their share of first place.

The losses to North Farmington and Livonia Franklin left the Westlanders with an even .500 (4-4) conference record, trailing Thurston by one game.

The game at North Farmington last Tuesday was a good, old-fashioned ball game. Hoenes started righthander Dave Jensen on the mound while the Raiders selected to counter with their ace, Tim Cotter.

It was Glenn that drew first blood in the first inning when Cass Simpson belted a Cotter pitch over the right field fence, his third home run of the current campaign.

But the Raiders quickly tied it up in the bottom of the inning on doubles by Steve Brown and Eric Engel.

North took a 2-1 lead in the second on still another double by Todd Sheppard and a single by Scott Knoll. North added still another run in the third on (you guessed it) a double by Mike McBeth, a passed ball, and a grounder off the bat of Engel.

There the score stayed while Cotter made his way through Glenn's line-up with relative ease, not allowing a hit again until the sixth. Glenn started the inning hitting the ball hard - Simpson lined to second, Mike Oaks was robbed of a base hit at second, and Bill Barber singled hard up the middle.

Up stepped Brad Martin, who jumped on a nice offering from Cotter and deposited it in a backyard beyond right field. As he circled the bases with his fourth circuit blow to an ovation by Glenn fans, the Rockets had a 3-3 tie.

By now, Steve Irwin had replaced Jensen on the hill and was handcuffing the Raiders on only one hit.

Until the eighth that is. Engel doubled (what else?) up the alley in left center and raced home for the 4-3 win on a single by Mike Rudin. For Irwin, his first loss of the season and for the Rockets, a bitter pill to swallow.

An even more bitter pill to swallow was the way the host, Livonia Franklin, treated the Westlanders on Friday, lambasting them, 16-3, as Dave DeMay went 5-for-5, scored twice and drove in a pair of runs.

If there was a bright spot in this game for Glenn, perhaps it was the varsity debut of Jim Kenyon, who singled and scored Glenn's first run, and certainly had to make Hoenes smile. In addition, his scorekeepers, Karen Kujawski and Debbie Smith, were kept busy with all the statistics on the game.

There were bright moments, too, this past week. Bill Barber turned in a route-going, 10-strikeout performance against Ann Arbor Pioneer as the Rockets rallied for four runs in the seventh inning on four singles and a walk. Simpson added two more hits to raise his hit total to 28 on the season and his average to a scorching .491.

The Rockets wrestled a doubleheader on Saturday from Temperance Bedford, 6-4, and 4-1, to raise their over-all record to 14-6 on the season. That's Glenn's best in four years. Dave Husak belted a 2-run homer to key the Rockets' first-game victory and Shawn Dunford, with last-out relief help from Irwin, got the victory in the second game.

The Junior Varsity squad raised their record to 14-6 as Rick Tavormina hit a 3-run homer against Woodhaven and Brian Brown smashed a grand slam against Thurston.

Wayne, Edsel clash

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

After floundering during the course of the regular baseball season, Wayne Memorial begins the 'second season' today at home against former league rival, Edsel Ford.

Coach Jim Chronowski's Zebras will take a 6-9 won-lost record into the pre-district baseball playoffs. "Traditionally Edsel has fielded excellent ball clubs," Chronowski said. "And this year's club is no exception. We're going to have to play some of our best ball to get past them."

Chronowski received a superlative effort out of lefty Ron Way, one of the finest baseball prospectives to don a Wayne uniform in recent years in its 1-0 victory over Wolverine 'A' Conference opponent, Monroe.

Way whiffed 15 and twirled a two-hitter in the marathon that ended in the 11th inning when Dave Reynolds led off with a single, was sacrificed to second by Juan Hearnese and scored on Bob Millyard's "bloop single".

"We knocked out 11 hits, but we also stranded 17 men on the bases," Chronowski said. "We're getting the hits but not putting the runs on the scoreboard. Hopefully that will be corrected during the playoff series."

Earlier in the week Wayne dropped a 7-5 decision to Lincoln Park, a perennial title contender in the league.

Way derailed league-leading Fordson with a 3-hitter as the Zebras emerged atop of a 6-5 verdict against the Tractors. The Wayne hurler picked up his third league win, striking out six and walking five.

Wayne broke a 5-all deadlock in the top of the sixth when Eric Shirley blasted a leadoff double then, after one was out, an error and a walk to Dave Reynolds loaded the bases. John Eberhart also drew a base on balls, forcing in the winning run.

all, then took the lead in the next inning, 5-4. Wayne got one in the fifth to tie it and won the game in the sixth.

With Jerry Guriel firing a 3-hitter at the Zebras, Lincoln Park handed Chronowski's crew a 7-5 setback in the league. Guriel notched six strikeouts, walked one in throwing a three-hitter. Scott took the loss. He was tagged for five hits.

Spartans spill, 8-1

they are scheduled for a regular-season ending doubleheader at Trenton.

Mientkiewicz and his Spartans will host Inkster on May 21 at 4 p.m. for their pre-district playoff game.

After losing a make-up rescheduled game 9-8 on Friday to Dearborn Heights Annapolis, the Spartans came right back and ripped the Cougars 11-5 in the nightcap as Mark Bayliss chalked up the victory. He fanned nine and walked three.

The Spartans got two hits and three RBIs from Bryer while Bayliss helped his own cause with a pair of hits. Mark Leskovitz and Mike Sassee also checked in with a couple of hits.

Huron seeks 'Over 30' softballers

Area softball team managers who have not found a league to compete in at this late date are invited to register their clubs in the Huron Over 30 League. The league plays its games on Sunday, according to Paul Moore.

"We are looking for eight to 10 more teams," said Moore. "We have six teams already committed to compete this summer."

Games will be played on Sundays.

There is a $225 registration fee, and further information may be obtained by telephoning Moore at 753-9204.

J & D qualifies for national's

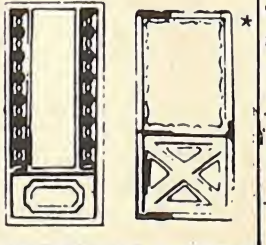

Continued from P.2 game series, when the defending Michigan champs blasted 14 runs in the fifth inning to win an 18-11 decision. Jim Kane drilled three home runs off of loser Bob Fields who also gave up three hits to Chuck Lindsay. Larry Boyles missed hitting for "the cycle" when he failed to fill the deck with a triple. Dave Conlin had two singles.

Create a dream

The dream of riding a float down

Woodward Avenue in Michigan's Thanks-giving Parade will become a reality for one lucky Michigan youngster.

Paula Blanchard, Michigan's First Lady and vice-chairman of the Parade Foundation, announced the annual contest for children in grades one through six to design a float.

The winning child will ride the top design in the 59th annual parade before a television audience of nearly 12 million people.

Designs must follow the theme of "Yes, Michigan Music." Children will submit their entries to their own school. The colorful drawings should be accompanied by a vivid description of the float. Entries must be mailed by the school district no later than May 20.

The top designs

from each district will be judged by a panel including the Parade's art director, television personalities, and Parade sponsors.

The winning student's school will receive an Apple IIc Starter Computer System from the Rainbow Computer Firm and the superintendent of the district will also ride on the float.

Mrs. Blanchard will announce the winner during Michigan Week, May 19-26.

Traci Majeski of North Huron Middle School in Port Austin was last year's winner.

Check your boat

The Wayne County Department of Parks and Recreation will sponsor "Courtesy Marine Examinations" through the United States Coast Guard Auxiliary, beginning Saturday,

May 11, and continuing through Sunday, Sept. 15.

The program, held near the boat launching area at the Elizabeth Park Marina in Trenton, is offered free of charge and available to boat owners each weekend to promote the safe and effective use of marine vessels, in compliance with federal, state and Coast Guard safe boating regulations.

A family affair

It turned out to be an extra-especial family gathering at Oakwood Hospital's Maternal and Child Health Care Center when Shelly M. Weir of Westland gave birth to twin boys, Brian (left) and Scott, earlier this month. For one of her nurses happened to be her sister Shari Crabtree, R.N., of Garden City, staff nurse, Labor and Delivery, who takes a moment to greet her new nephews.

Langley-Sloup

Wedding bells will be ringing on June 22 for Gail R. Langley of Westland and Gregory A. Sloup of Canton Township. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Langley of Westland. A member of the Class of 1974 of Wayne Memorial High School, she currently is employed by H.L.F. Furniture in Livonia. Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sloup of Inkster. A graduate of Cherry Hill High School, he also attended Henry Ford Community College in Dearborn. He is employed by Quick Machine Company of Detroit.

We've lowered our prices.
But not our standards.

It's easy to find a good price on glasses. But what are you giving up to get that price? At Pearle, we only put our glasses on sale if we can do so without jeopardizing the personal attention, professional service and one-year guarantee that come with every pair.

This month, we're taking $20.00 off the price of all our quality glasses. And you can be sure that the only thing that's any less is the price.

Save $20 on glasses

Present this certificate by July 1, 1985 at a Pearl Vision Center listed below and get $20 off the regular price of a complete prescription eyeglass purchase.

CITY OF ROMULUS OFFICIAL NOTICE TO THE CITIZENS OF THE CITY OF ROMULUS OF PUBLIC HEARING TO CONSIDER APPROVAL OF A PROJECT PLAN AND THE ISSUANCE OF THE BONDS PROPOSED THEREIN AS SUBMITTED TO THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF ROMULUS BY THE ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION OF THE CITY OF ROMULUS FOR STAIR REALTY PROJECT

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that pursuant to Act 338 of the Public Acts of Michigan of 1974, as amended, The Economic Development Corporation of the City of Romulus has submitted a project plan to the City Council for its approval.

Said project plan deals with the construction and equipping of a 31,200 square foot warehouse and office facility to be owned by Stair Realty, a partnership organized under the laws of the State of Florida to be used by Stair Realty for office and distribution of air freight and to be located on a project area or site described as follows:

A part of the N.E. 1/4 of Section 13, T.3 S., R. 9 E., City of Romulus, Wayne County, Michigan, described as follows:

Beginning at a point on the N. & S. 1/4 line distant due south 669.20 feet from the N. 1/4 corner of Section 13; thence S. 89° 34' 26" E. 500.01 feet; thence south 407.13 feet; thence N. 89° 52' 40" W. 500.00 feet; thence due north 409.79 feet along the N. & S. 1/4 line to the point of beginning. The west 43 feet is subject to the rights of the public for road purposes. The East 10 feet of the west 43 feet is subject to an easement for water main. The northerly part of the described parcel is subject to the Sloss Ganong Drain Basement which is more particularly described as:

Beginning at a point distant due south 669.20 feet and S. 89° 34' 26" E. 193.00 feet from the N. 1/4 corner of Section 13; thence S. 89° 34' 26" E. 307.01 feet; thence south 50.00 feet; thence N. 89° 34' 26" W. 207.42 feet; thence N. 63° 00' 00" W. 111.77 feet to the point of beginning of this easement.

The street address of the facility is 9401 Harrison Road, Romulus, Michigan.

Said project plan details all information required by law relative to said project and its impact on the community. No persons will be displaced from the project area as a result of this project. Said project plan also proposes the issuance of revenue bonds by said Economic Development Corporation in a maximum principal amount not to exceed $1,200,000 to assist in the financing of said project.

The City Council will meet at 6:45 o'clock p.m., Monday, the 3rd day of June, 1985, at the City offices located at 11111 Wayne Road, Romulus, Michigan, and will conduct a public hearing.

The public hearing shall consider the advisability of the City Council approving, modifying or rejecting by resolution said project plan and the issuance of bonds as proposed therein.

THIS NOTICE is given pursuant to the requirements of Sections 10 and 17 of Act 338, Public Acts of Michigan, 1974, as amended. The project plan and relevant maps or plats are available for inspection at the City Clerk's office.

All interested citizens are encouraged and will be offered an opportunity at said hearing to address the City Council concerning said project, said project plan, and the bonds proposed to be issued. Written comments may also be submitted to the City Clerk prior to said hearing.

WCCC campus meets needs of students

The Western Campus of Wayne County Community College, 9555 Haggerty Road in Belleville, officially opened its doors in 1981, and has since been offering high quality, low cost education to the surrounding area.

The Western Campus is one of five regional campuses of the college. Begun on the conviction that no person should be denied an education, the essence of the college's academic purpose remains that of high quality and low cost. So it is, that the college also has an "open door" admissions policy, admitting anyone over the age of 18 years regardless of their previous education.

Consequently, the institution's transition from a store front community presence in 1973 to a multi-campus phenomenon within 12 years has been swift and varied. Each campus has developed a "personality" all its own, offering courses of unique interest to the neighboring communities.

Nestled on 100 wooded acres, the expansive facility houses a well-equipped learning resource center and modern technical laboratories.

A strong Liberal Arts Transfer Program remains a mainstay at the campus, offering a variety of courses in the arts and sciences. Many students take advantage of the smaller class sizes and individualized instruction, while obtaining an associate degree at WCCC, before transferring to a four-year university.

Throughout the years, the college has made a conscious effort to expand its vocational technical programs as well. Associate degrees and certificates may be earned in vocational technical fields, such as computer data processing, heating, ventilation and air conditioning, electronics and diesel engine mechanics.

Students wishing to take only a few classes for personal enrichment enroll in community services/continuing education courses that respond to life-long learning needs such as skills development, job upgrading and personal growth. The Displaced Homemakers program is a particularly popular program at the Western Campus, offering job training skills to women who have lost their financial resources for a variety of reasons.

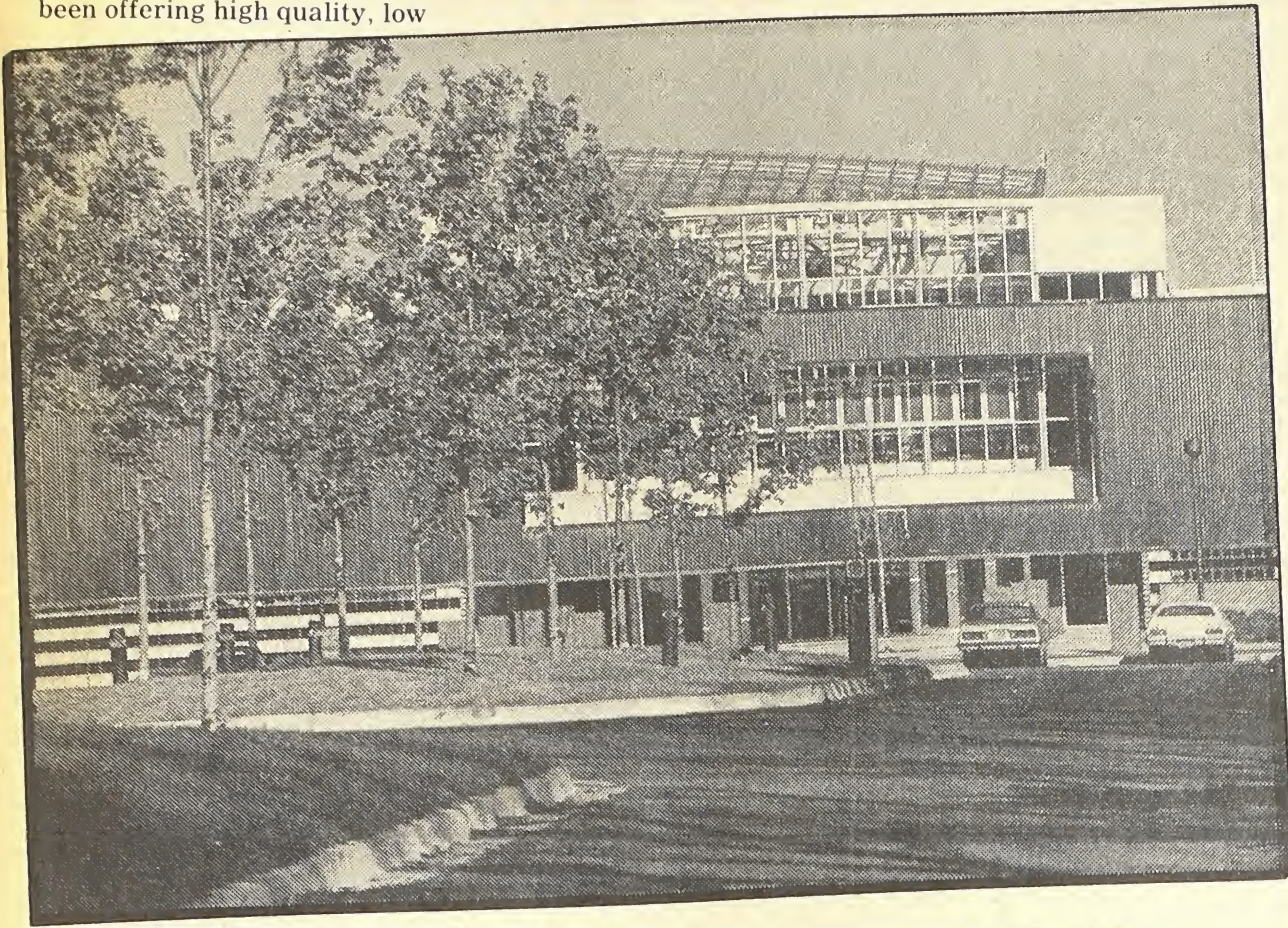

Student support systems such as counseling and academic assistance are available. Qualifying students may take advantage of financial aid and veterans programs. A full-service child care facility is on-site, accepting children as young as two weeks. This service is available to WCCC students, as well as the community at large.

"Most people are impressed with our programs and the campus facility once they are exposed to us," says Associate Provost Milan Chonich. "However, a persistent problem for this campus has been recognition that we exist. We want the community to know that we are here, ready to serve their educational needs."

An Open House is scheduled for August, which will feature a 10K run, hot air balloon rides, children's activities and facility tours.

Registration for the Spring/Summer semester, May 20-July 23, continues through May 24. Interested persons are encouraged to contact the Student Services Office at 699-1020 for further information.

Another Atta-boy for Burt Smith of Atchinson Ford in Belleville. Burt has once again been recognized by Ford Division's Society of Professional Sales Counselors for sales excellence.

This marks the ninth time Burt has received the prestigious award. Atchinson Ford at 9800 Belleville Road is also proud of its just completed landscaping. The new look includes a unique display area for (what else?) new Ford cars and trucks!

Speaking of new looks . . . construction of the Roberts Bros-Rawlus Chapel at 209 Main Street in Belleville has been completed. The beautiful new colonial look was designed by architect George Craven of Belleville. Construction was handled by Robson Builders, located in the Belle Plaza Shopping Center in Belleville. Nice work guys!

Horsing around Marilyn White, an employee of Equitable Life Insurance Company, hit it lucky at the Kentucky Derby earlier this month. She was congratulated this week by fellow members of the Belleville Business & Professional Women's Club.

Romulus adds two new businesses. Melody Lane Record & Tapes and The Movie Stop, movie sales and rentals, are now open in the Wayne Port Plaza, 9200 South Wayne Road in Romulus.

Metro Carburetor & Auto Repair in downtown Romulus has just added the new Sun Diagnostic Computer to their service center. Say you read it in the paper and get $5 off on a complete diagnosis for your car. Sounds like a good deal!

Welcome to Westland! Beck's Tire & Service Center at 35235 Warren Road (across from Westland Center) is rolling strong into the third week of its grand opening. Check out this week's ad for all the super prices on Goodyear tires and service. Store Manager Mike Sturdy wants to do all he can to make you a friend and customer.

Following a complete remodeling of their showroom, Ajax Floor Covering, 32639 Ford Road (near Venoy) in Garden City, is proudly celebrating a re-grand opening sale and giveaway. Along with the rock-bottom prices on wood flooring and ceramic wall tile, they're giving away some great prizes including a 19-inch color TV, microwave oven, am/fm cassette stereo and more. No purchase is necessary to enter the drawing, to be held in June.

Edith and Mindy at Collector's Corner, 902 South Wayne Road in Westland have lately been getting swamped with new handmade merchandise. Collector's Corner serves as a retail outlet for as many as 200 local crafts people, displaying such unique items as music boxes, clowns, mugs and conversation pieces. With the flood of new products coming in, prices are expected to be quite reasonable for these one-of-a-kind items.

Plans for this summer's Wayne Side-walk Sale were discussed at last week's Wayne Merchant Association meeting. The sale dates have been set for July 25, 26 and 27. Look for a special tabloid in your Associated Newspapers just prior to the sale.

President Mitch Robertson of D & D Hardware presided over the meeting, held at Dominos Pizza (next to Krogers in Wayne). One round of "what-a-guy" please for John at Dominos for supplying the pizza and soft drinks.

Next week, Associated Newspapers will proudly salute our Senior Citizens in our special edition entitled "Golden Years". Our communities hold more recreation opportunities than ever for today's older folks. See what we mean next week!

Romulus auto students compete in state finals

Two automotive technology students from Romulus High School will test their skills against students from nine other schools tomorrow (Thursday) at the Plymouth-AAA Trouble Shooting Contest statewide finals in Dearborn. Jerry Renner and Tony Martinez earned their right into the finals by placing among the top two-member teams from 65 Michigan high schools in competition March 26. The students, instructed by Frank Chapp, scored well in a written exam that tested academic and mechanical abilities.

ties.

Finalists will work against the clock to correct problems on identically "bugged" 1985 Plymouth Turismos. The top Michigan team will compete against winners from 49 other states in the June 17 national championship in Kansas City.

Sponsored by Chrysler-Plymouth and AAA, the state finals will begin at 10 a.m. at the AAA administrative headquarters parking lot on Hubbard Drive. A total of $125,000 in prizes and scholarships will be available for winning students.

An estimated 29,000 former contestants nationwide, who honed their mechanical skills for the competition, now are employed in the auto service field.

The contest was launched in 1949 in Los Angeles by Plymouth dealers as a local event.

1,000 jobs created by Republic

Approximately 1,000 new jobs will be created through the expansion of Republic Airlines' operation reservations center. Persons interested in applying for a position may send a resume to Wayne County Private Industry Corporation, P.O. Box 51085, Livonia 48151.

Those interested also may apply in person at the local information and referral center, located at the Wayne County Cooperative Extension Service, 5454 Venoy in Wayne.

New positions will include flight attendant, passenger service agent, reservations agent, station agent, communications agent, clerical, mechanic, fleet service and others. Unemployed and economically disadvantaged individuals will be given first chance at the jobs, according to Wayne County Executive William Lucas.

The program will be administered by the Wayne County Private Industry Corporation, a job training and placement body headed by leaders of business, labor, academia and public and private service agencies.

The group already is processing approximately 100 applications daily at a specially opened center at the former Eloise Complex in Westland.

While Republic's operation is the largest at Metropolitan Airport, the expansion will create one of the biggest airline hubs in the nation. The private industry corporation has assembled $1.6 million in funding to help recruit and train workers.

Flights of the Minneapolis-based airlines have been increased from 149 to 178.

Downsize Your Monthly Payments

Without Downsizing Your New Car

There it is, in the middle of the showroom. The car. It's the right color, with all the right options. You step closer, inhaling the "new car smell." But then, the sticker price takes your breath away. And the next model down suddenly begins to look a lot better.

Lower your payments, not your expectations.

There isn't much you can do about today's high, new-car prices — but you can lower your monthly payments with a Flex Rate Auto Loan from Wyandotte Savings Bank.

Flex your credit muscle. WSB Flex Rate loans have lower monthly payments because the variable interest rate is lower than on fixed-rate loans. The interest rate may periodically change according to current Treasury bill rates, but rate increases are "capped" and your monthly payment amount never goes up. If rates fall, you'll make fewer payments. If they go up, the payment term is extended.

To apply for a WSB Flex Rate Auto Loan, ask your dealer, or come to any office of Wyandotte Savings Bank. So when you shop for a new car, you won't have to settle for less — just pay less every month.
